DEDICATION
To
George W. Crile
a true son of Northern and a servant of humanity,
we respectfully
dedicate this the 1916 Northern

George W. Crile

OHIO NORTHERN has among her alumni many honored sons. To one who glances through the list of those who have gone out from the institution to take their place in the world's duties, there appears at short intervals the name of some one whose achievements have made him a figure of importance throughout the country. Then, too, there are those whose efforts have been directed to affairs outside the boundary of our national limited interests. These men have made the name of Ohio Northern a thing to conjure by in other lands and while to us they may be almost strangers, in the larger world where they do their work they are recognized at their full worth.

The name of George W. Crile is familiar not only to all friends and alumni of Ohio Northern, but also to the world. Born in Chili, Ohio, Nov. 11, 1864, he was educated in the Chili grammar schools and in the Ohio Northern University, graduating in 1884. After receiving a degree in medicine from the Wooster University, he returned to Northern and took advanced subjects, receiving a degree of Master of Arts in 1888.

From the time of his graduation until 1900 he held the chairs of Histology, Physiology, and Surgery at Wooster University. He spent the summers of 1893 in Vienna, 1895 in Paris, and 1897 in London, as a student under some of Europe's best surgeons. During this period his treatises and researches won for him several notable prizes such as the Cartwright prize from Columbia University in 1897 and the Senn prize from the American Medical Association. Dr. Crile is a prominent member of the American Medical Association, American College of Surgeons, the American Physiological Society and several other well known medical societies.

Dr. Crile has given to his profession many works in modern surgery and medicine. Some of his publications are, Surgical Shock, Surgery of the Respiratory System, Anoci-Association, and Origin and Nature of the Emotion.

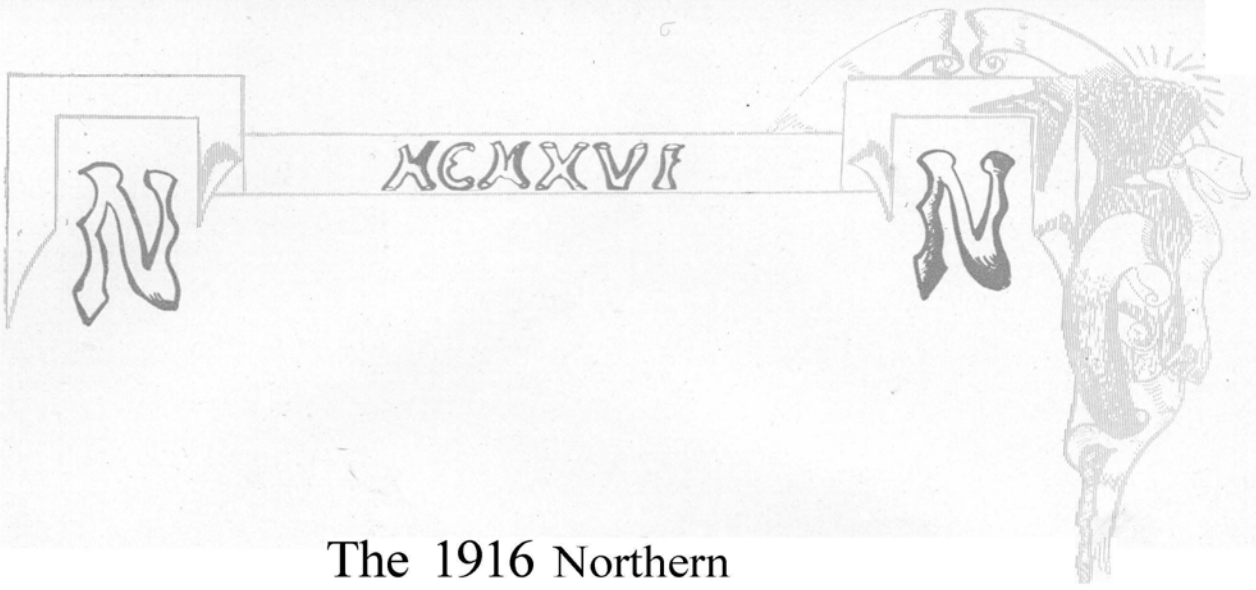

In recognition of his signal services to humanity, by the discovery of a method for the prevention of post-surgical shock known as "anoci-association," Dr. Crile was elected in 1913 to a fellowship in the Royal College of Surgeons in Great Britain.

When the call came for medical aid in the war zone of the present European struggle he went to France in charge of the Lakeside Unit sent by the Western Reserve University and established the American Hospital at Neuilly, France.

As an author, a surgeon, and a man Dr. Crile is widely known. And so it is with great pleasure that we dedicate this volume to one who, with such a record, such a reputation has brought honor not only upon himself but upon his Alma Mater which proudly claims him as one of her own.

Dr. JOHN DAVISON
Vice President

The opening of the school year found with us a new officer of the University, Dr. John Davison, newly elected vice-president of the Ohio Northern Uriiversity. We are pleased to have the honor of being the first-class to publish his picture in the year book.

Dr. Davison graduated from "Northern" in 1887, since then he has devoted his life to teaching and it seems not at all unfitting that after thirty-five years of hard labor frought with success that he should be given the opportunity of serving his Alma Mater.

We greet him, and welcome him back once again into our midst. It is to be regretted that we will not be associated with this man any longer, for his wholesome advice, given to us in chapel speeches, his Christianlike bearing, and pleasing manner have been a source of inspiration to our lives.

But we must go our way and he his, we are not sure what our future will be, but we know that his will be the training and uplifting of the minds of those who may come in contact with him.

The Real Northern

What constitutes the O. N. U.?
Is it clay and brick and sand?
Is it confined to where it grew,
Campus where buildings stand?

Does it depend for its renown,
On objects that we see?
Do limits of old Ada town,
Contain all that it be?

Do faculty and President,
The idea symbolize?
By it, are we students meant?
Do these the whole comprise?

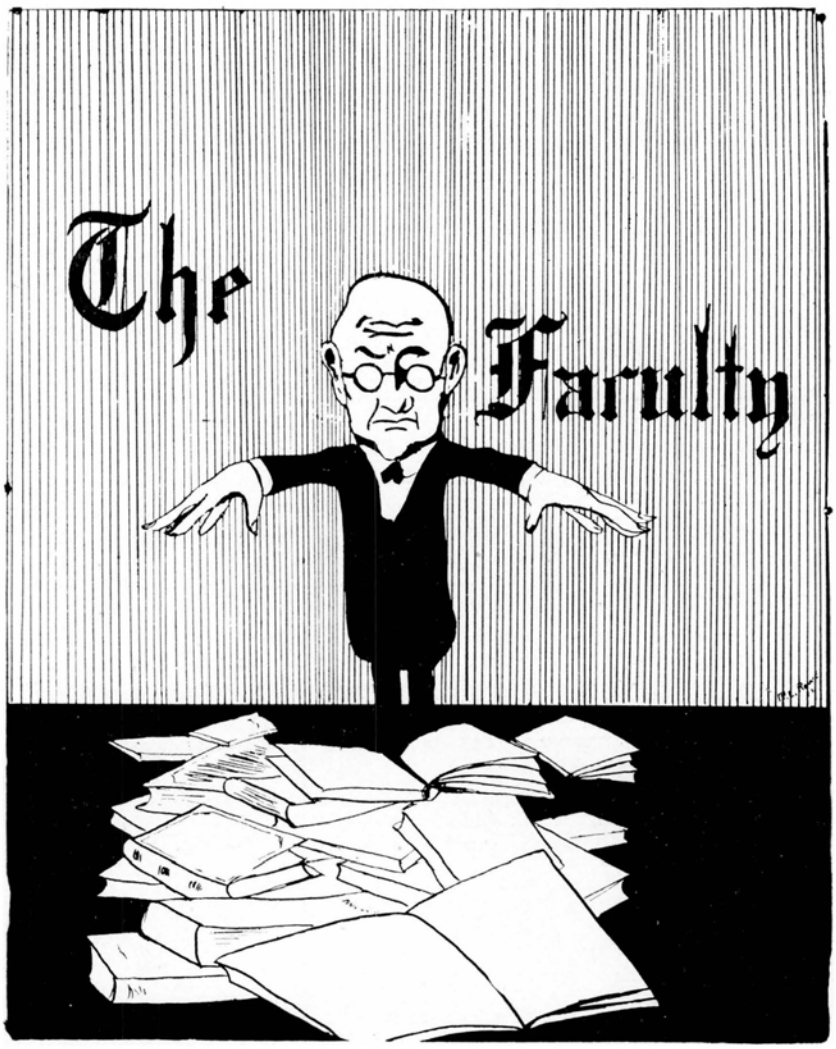

There's something noble, grand, and true,
Intangible, unseen
That represents the O. N. U.
Our Alma Mater, Queen.

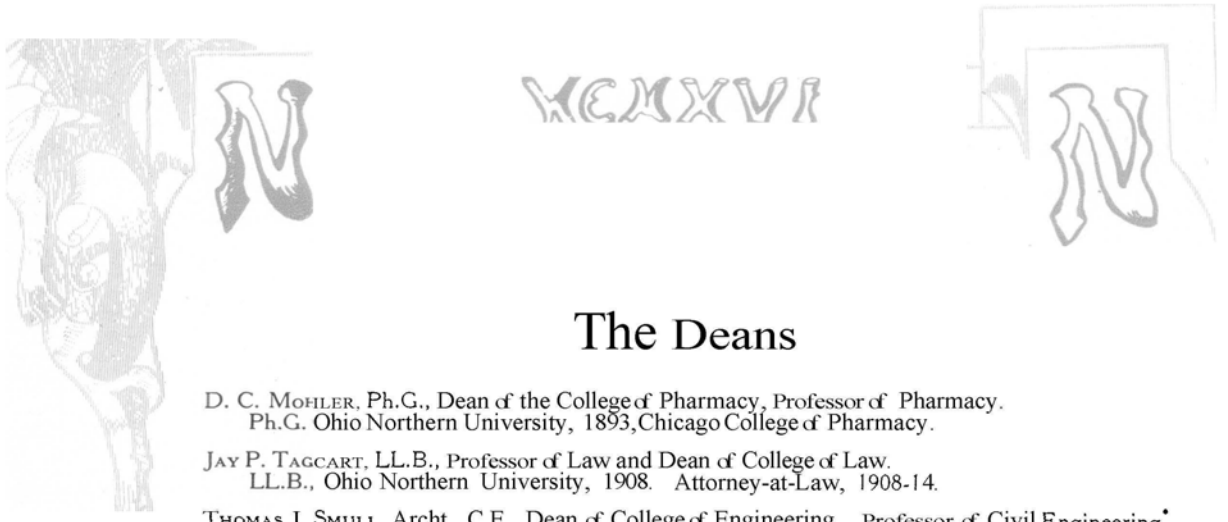

'Tis a spirit that is pure and bright
That within these walls was nourished,
And like the night-dispelling light
Has spread abroad and flourished.

You'll find it yonder o'er the sea,
With every land and race.
Wherever its apostles be,
This spirit finds a place.

Wax strong, old Northern spirit, brave.
Prove knight to him enchained
In castle Ignorance, a slave
To hopelessness unnamed.

We new disciples of your creed
Will follow at your call.
Your silent urging we will heed.
Ne'er shall your banner fall.

Classrooms and Laboratories of the College of Pharmacy

PHARMACY

DAVID C. MOHLER, Ph.G., Ph.C., Dean of the College of Pharmacy

RALPH WHITE, Ph. G., Ph. L.
Sutton. W. Va.

Theta Nu Epsilon: O. N. U. P. A.; Philo Society; President, Senior Pharmacy Class.

From West Virginia. Says he did as much as anyone to make his State dry, but at last gave up, saying that the stuffwas made entirely too fast and so the people would have to resort to the ballot.

WALTER S. ANDERSON, Ph. G.
Portsmouth, Ohio

Sardinia High School; O. N. U. P. A.; Hermuit Clb.

Notorious outlaw and apple thief. He has lived all his life in Portsmouth, but even this fails to account for him entirely. Maybe "Bull Durham" did it.

RALL M. AYERS, Ph. G., Ph. L.
Mendon, Ohio

M. H. S., '11; President Junior Pharmacy Class; Hermit Club.

Can ask questions that would take Frank Merck an hour to answer, and proved to Prof. Raabe's satisfaction that it is possible to drive a nail with a sponge, but Duke is alright though, so fill the glasses and here's to his success.

CHESTER B. BURT, Ph. G.
Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio

Sigma Pi; O. N. U. P. A.

A gentleman—a scholar—and a good critic of (fair) faces. He is batting .500 in the Pill Roller's league.

OSCAR A. BLOOMBERG (Bloomy), Ph. G.
Melrose, Oregon

Western Reserve University; O. N. U. P. A.; Theta Nu Sigma; Theta Nu Epsilon; Adelphian Society; Company "A;" Manager Junior Pharmacy Baseball; Cheer Leader Junior Pharmacy.

With all this to his credit there is a(Rae) shining for him.

EARL B. CAIN, Ph. C.
Adamston, W. Va.

Sigma Pi Fraternity; O. N. U. P. A.
Sheet 35

Eats, drinks, and smokes, but cares not for work. He's strong for the ladies and the ladies are strong for him. He spends his summers at Atlantic City and his splash is heard in Ada.

RAYMOND D. CLARK, Ph. C.
Fort Wayne, Indiana.

O. N. U. P. A.; Hermit Club; Vice President Senior Pharmacy Class.

The gentleman from Indiana. Smokes black stogies but was never speaker of the house, and yet when it comes to any argument. he's from Missouri.

JESSE A. CHAMPION, Ph. C.
Antwerp, Ohio

A. H. S., '07; Philo Society; MasonicClub; O. N. U. P. A.

There's only one champion except Jess Willard, and this is he. Claims that "the certain Prof." overshot his mark when he landed on the Pharmics.

C. A. Droz, jr., Ph. C.
Ambridge, Pa.

A. H. S.; University Pittsburg; C pt. Senior Football Team: O. N. U. P. A.; Theta Nu Epsilon.

Man about town. Social lion and clubman He can break more hearts in a minute than Dan Cupid can in a life time.

JOHN Dunajtsik, Ph. C.
Mansfield, Ohio

O. N. U. P. A.

Lost somewhere in the intricate network of education.

P. Elton Elrod, Ph. C.
Williamsburg, Ohio

W. H. S., '13; O. N. U. P. A.; Adelphian Society.

It is unnec ssary for him to teach or preach; his silent presence is a sun that warms and gives light.

George D. Frohnapfel, Ph. C.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

O. N. U. P. A.; Cheer Leader, Senior Pharmacy Class.

A perfect image of "der Kaiser" and an earne t adherent of pow-wow, but we promised never to mention it He's a ood fellow, and his two good lungs insure him of no immediate necessity of go ng to Denver.

G. Galvez, Ph. G.
Santa Clare H. S.

Men of few words are the best men.

David D. Hartford, Ph. G.
Darlington, Pa.

Slippery Rock State Normal; Geneva College; O. N. U. P. A.; Hermit Club.

Everything is coming down, even Dave's eyebrows took a slip down on his lip.

W. C. Hallisy, Jr., Ph. G.
Xenia, Ohio

X. H. S.; O. N. U. P. A.

The original "Gyp the Blood" of today. Says that Henry never saw the day that he could catch him but don't ask concerning that memoriable night. It's a bloody story.

Wynne L. Jackson, Ph. G.
Rochester, N. Y.

St. Andrew's Seminary; Valporaiso University; O. N. U. P. A.; Sigma Phi Epsilon; Kappa Phi Gamma. Editor-in-Chief of 1916 Northern; Philo; Corporal, Medical Corps, O. N. U. Battalion.

An all around good scout. Future president of the "Northern Spy Trust." Says "the coward fired and ran, but he couldn't catch me." His motto is "New York against the world."

LLOYD M. JOHNSON, Ph. G.
Nappanee, Indiana

N. H. S., '13; Hermit Club: O. N. U. P. A.; Business Manager, Northern Review.

Johnson is very eccentric—he attends church Sunday evenings and next morning breaks open a patient chewing gum machine.

FRED C. LEWIS, Ph. G.
Salinesville, Ohio

O. N. U. P. A.; Hermit Club: Circulating Manager, 1916 Northern.

First cousin to "Left Lewis" but admits that his cousin went too far with his devilment. However, something will seem missing from these old halls when "Louie" packs his trunk to go.

CLIFFORD LESLIE, Ph. G.
Convoy, Ohio

C. H. S.; O. N. U. P. A.; Hermit Club.

We don't believe that Leslie ever had any serious thought of studying ministry, but ackowledge that he has all the tendencies and proclivities that go to make a good pharmacist.

A. W. MILLER, Ph. G.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

O. N. U. P. A.

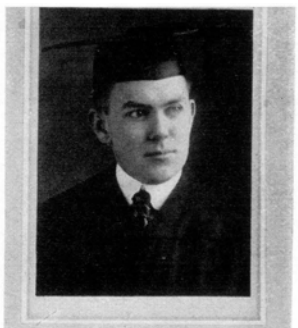

"All nature wears one universal grain." Miller this year sprung us a surprise—"He bringeth a wife in our midst." Long may he live and short be his troubles.

C. F. NEIL, Ph. G.
Ashtabula, Ohio

Business Manager, 1916 Northern; A. B. C., '13; O. N. M., '12; Franklin Society. Sergeant, Medical Corps, O. N. U. Battalion.

Neil is a philosopher whose greatest problem is which came first, the acorn or the oak. His motto can be found in the last three words of the Jewish Bible "Get the money."

HARLEY PENCE, Ph. C.
Dayton, Ohio

H. H.S.; U. S. N. A. P. S.; U. N. U. Band; O. N. U. P. A.; Philo; Sigma Phi Epsilon; 1916 Northern Board.

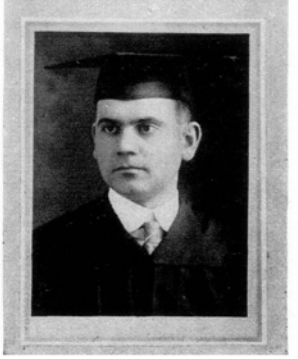

"He conquers who endures."

EARL PENCE, Ph. C.
Dayton, Ohio

Sigma Phi Epsilon; O. N. U. P. A.; Assistant Circulating Manager, 1916 Northern; Philo O. N. U. Band, '15.

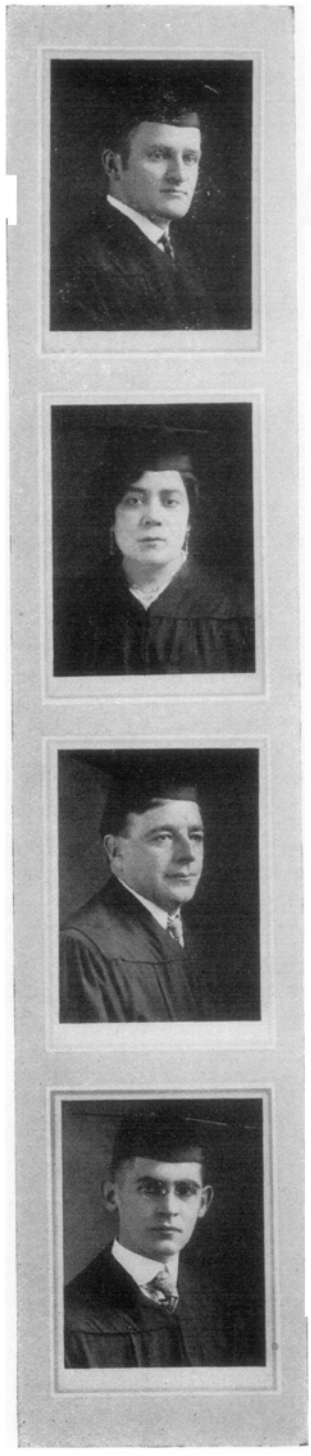

Arise, Earl, shoulders back and eyes to the front. Five feet, two and a half with his watch and chain on, Gentlemen, this is Gas-away. He laughs his way into the hearts of all.

GUY PAYNE, Ph. C.
Philippi, W. Va.

P. H. S.; O. N. U. P. A.

Another of our neighbors form the desert—claims that whiskey, to be pure, should be white. May his future life be infested with many little paines (Paynes).

CRIER RUNYON, Ph. C.. Ph. L.
Martins Ferry, Ohio

O. N. U. P. A.; Secretary, Masonic Club.
He is not a Baptist but took the plunge and came out of the water smiling (?), but, nevertheless, Runyon claims that it's the women that make the swimin'.

EURIGNETA C. RAMOS, Ph. G.
Cabaignan, Cuba

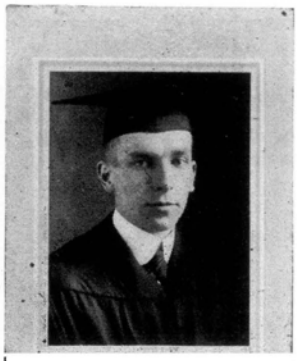

Woman—she needs no eulogy; she speaks for herself.

ANDRES C. RAMOS, Ph. G.
Cabaignan, Cuba

The happiest men, like the happiest nations, have no history.

D. GLENN ROBINSON, Ph. G.
Ashland, Ohio

Savannah Academy, '12; Adelphian Society; Company "C"; O. N. U. P. A.; "Robbie."
A silent chap, who doesn't tell all he knows, but knows all he tells.

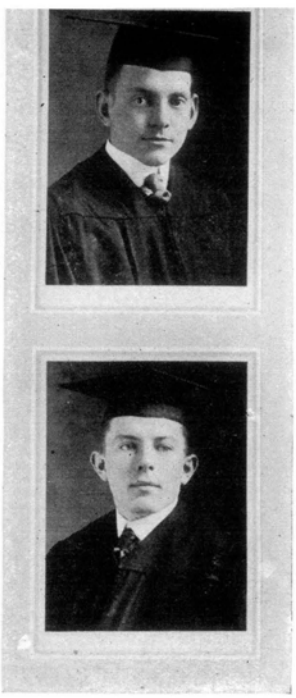

HOMER L. SUTHERIN, Ph. G.
East Palestine, Ohio

O. N. U. P. A.; O. N. U. Choral Society; Treasurer, Senior Pharmacy Class;
Social advisor of the "Bachelor Girls Club."
"A man's a man for a 'that' and we agree with him that a chicken shouldn't go to roost before eleven."

ORVILLE WILSON SHAFF, Ph. G.
Salineville, Ohio

S. H. S., '13; Hermit Club; O. N. U. P. A.
A pipe—A grin—Its spits—'Tis him.

GEO. LEE SHAW, Ph. G.
Hillsboro, Ohio

H. H. S.. '12; O. N. U. P. A.; Vice President, Masonic Club; Secretary, Senior Pharmacy Class.
He went to the gallows smiling, and hes been smiling ever since—claims that matrimony is not such a crime even though your ankle does wear the "Ball and Chain."

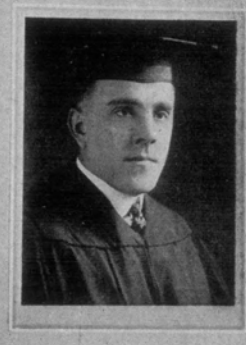

W. ROBERT SHANK, Ph. G.
Windham, Ohio

W. H. S., '12; Philo Society; Track, 1915; O. N. U. P. A.
The man who never left the social thermometer stand at zero.

RAYMOND A. TAUCHER. Ph. G., Ph. L.
Mt. Vernon, Ohio

St. Vincent de Paul's H. S.
"Jerry" claims there's no place like home (there's a reason). He has no love for the Kaiser but could sit all night and listen to the songs of Harry Lauder. Nationality not German.

MARION H. WALL, Ph. G.
Georgetown, Ohio

G. H. S.; Hermit Club.
He's chief operator on the switch board of the Cyclone exchange and where there's h--in the atmosphere, he's always present.

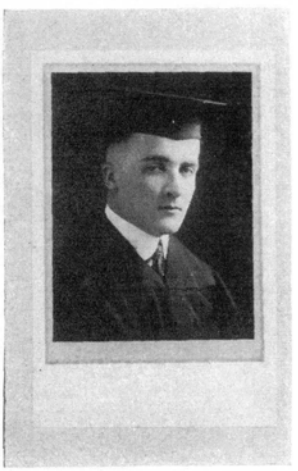

C. W. WISE, Ph. G.
Mt. Vernon, Ohio

Felicity H. S.; O. N. U. P. A.
Comes from the big timbers of North America. While still young he committed matrimony, otherwise, here's a hand—may good luck-be yours.

SCOTT WILCH, Ph. G., Ph. L.
Arlington. Ohio

Theta Nu Epsilon; O. N. U. P. A.; O. W. U.; Manager, Junior Pharmacy Basket Ball Team; 1916 Northern, "Demon."
He may have political longings, or perhaps a thirst for knowledge (?) but we think that he was sent into the world to be a growing and exhaustless force.

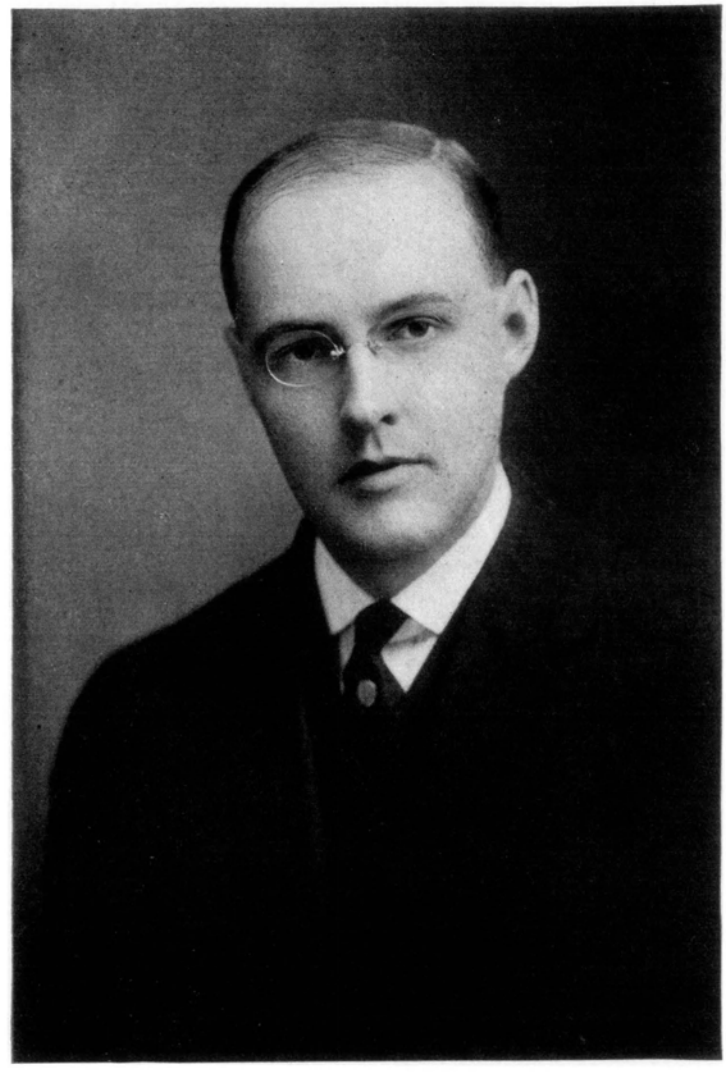

EDWARD B. SIMPSON, Ph. C.
Indiana, Penn.

O. N. U. P. A.; Franklin; Company D.
"Bud's" favorite ditty, "Every little suit-case has a contents all its own."

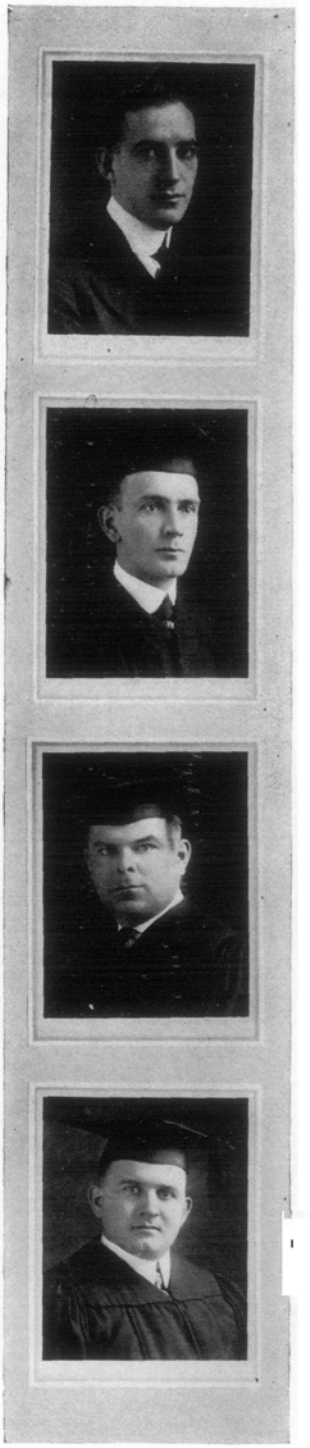

The Druggist's Dream

Last evening I was talking
With a druggist aged and gray,
Who told me of a dream he had,
I think 'twas Christmas Day
While snoozing in his office
The vision came to view,
For he saw an angel enter,
Dressed in garments white and new.
Said the angel: "I'm from Heaven
The Lord just sent me down
To bring you up to glory
And put on your golden crown.
You've been a friend to every one
And worked hard night and day:
You've accommodated thousands,
And from few received your pay.
So we want you in glory,
For you have labored hard,
And the good Lord is preparing
Your eternal just reward."
Then the druggist and the angel
Started up to glory's gate,
But when passing close to Hades,
The angel murmured "Wait!"
I have a place to show you—
It's the hottest place in H—
Where the ones that never paid you
In torment always dwell.
And behold! the druggist saw there
His old customers by the score,
And grabbing up a chair and fan,
He wished for nothing more:
But was bound to sit and watch them
As they'd sizzle, singe and burn
And his eyes would rest on debtors,
Whichever way they'd turn.
Said the angel, "Come on, druggist!,,
There's the pearly gates to see.
But the druggist only answered,
"This is heaven enough for me."

Student Life

STUDENT life at the Ohio Northern University is different from the accepted "college life." True we have our football games, fraternities and other things which are familiar to the college student throughout the country, but here things seem different.

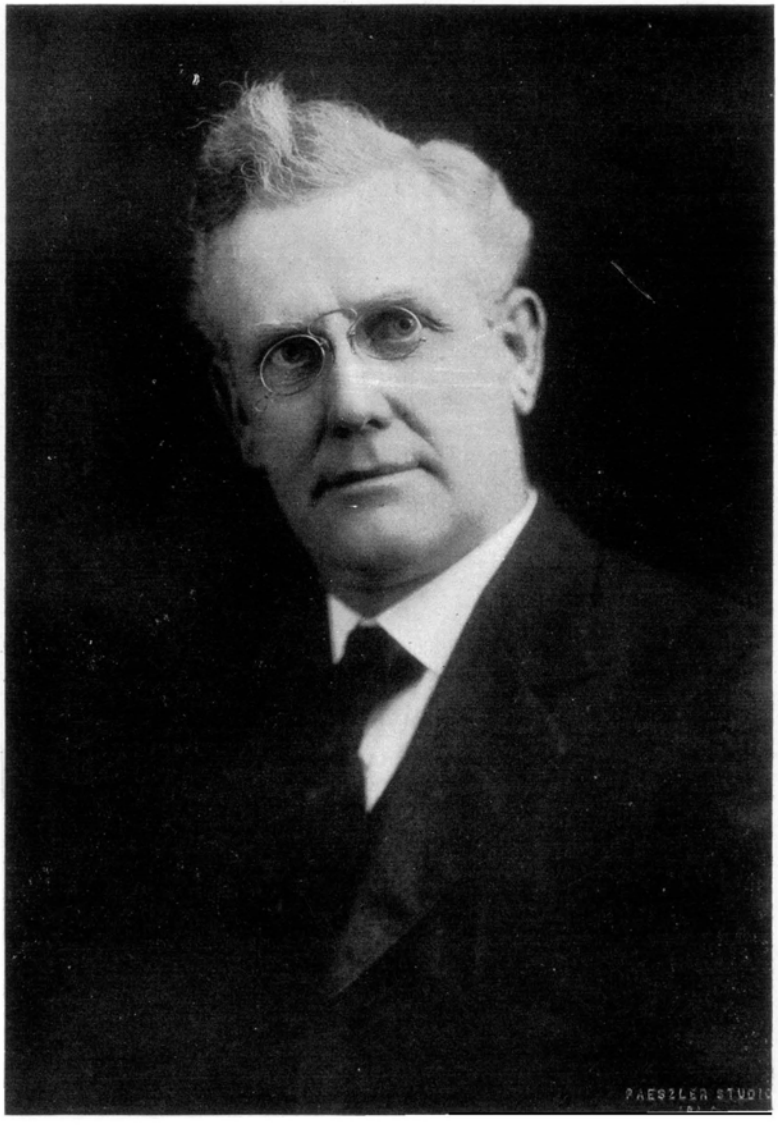

This difference is quickly noticed by men of other colleges and is usually explained by saying that, "there is no spirit at 'Northern.'" Most of the undergraduates cannot refute this accusation because they themselves can early feel the difference but do not know what it is. Some explanations are offered such as, "we do not have time to create traditions, and this is what the student life at Northern lacks." Some say the trouble lies in the number of students who come in for one term or so and then leave college.

None of these explanations seem satisfactory. For instance we have the "Burial of the Hatchet," and several lesser ones. It is true we have not Yale's "Tap Day," or Cornell's "Spring Day," but it is also true that we are better off without it.

The difference to be found is in the spirit. The accusation that Northern students have no spirit is not true, they have a different spirit. The Northern spirit is not the "rah-rah" type which delights in tearing down fences to serve as fuel for bonfires.

The spirit of Northern looks to the man, rather than to the institution. The Northern student life tends to develop the man, to subserve the institution to him, rather than to subordinate him to the system of undergraduate life; rather than put him into a great machine where his only chance to be himself is the chance afforded by the machine. This is the true keynote of "Northern Spirit."

MCMXVI

To the Class of '16

As we scan each sacred item
Recorded in our book,
It recalls to us past memories
That we never can forget.
Our days were not all days of sunshine;
Nor each task so sweet to perform,
But we love to review the story
And dream of the days that have gone.
Then we dream and we keep on dreaming,
Live our college life all over again;
And it seems to us sweeter than ever
This struggle for knowledge to gain.
But life calls for our part in its struggle
And gladly we join the throngs,
Who have answered the call of life's chieftain,
To receive honor where honor belongs.
Success will not smile on us always,
We never knew such a word as "luck";
What success we each may accomplish
Will come from the better word "pluck."
We will ask our place in life's battle
We will put on the armour of Light,
Of Truth, of Faith in our fellow workmen;
We are ready now for the fight.
And armed with the weapon of Learning,
We know no such word as fear;
We will bear our breasts to battle
And fight for the things we hold dear.
So we will strive and keep on striving
Until we hear the call from above,
And will live a life worth living;
With His aid and guidance and love.

The O. N. U. Cadet Band

THIS year Northern can boast of one of the best cadet bands in the state. Under the leadership of Clifford Caton the membership of the Band was increased from twenty to forty pieces.

The men deserve much credit for the assortment of musical numbers they have offered during the chapel hour. Their playing was of the best and delighted their audiences, on each occasion. A concert was given in the Lafayette High School being well attended and received by the audicence.

Mr. Caton has worked hard with the men and has succeeded in turning out a good Band. The Band that will accompany the corps to camp this year will be one every Northernite can be proud of.

The Philomathean Literary Society

Ohio Northern 1915-1916 University

Philo Hall

Summer Term, 1915

OFFICERS

President, I. S. CAMPBELL

Vice President, SOPHIA GLINN

Secretary, MINNIE GLIEM

Treasurer, G. W. SLEASMAN

THE Summer Term, 1915, was a very successful one for the Philomathean Literary Society. Seventy-one new members were admitted to the society. Under the able supervision of Mr. A. C. Teany, splendid programs were provided. The featuring program was a "War Program," which ended with a pantomine, "At Camp" by a squad of Philo men.

Misses Carrie Wilson, and Sophia Cliem; Mr. J. P. Taggart and H. P. Curry with Mr. O. W. Hankins as chairman formed a strong executive committee, doing good work throughout the term. Their most improtant achievement was the entire reconstruction of the constitution . This committee deserves much praise for their work.

Many delightful social times were enjoyed by the members of the society. Notably amongst these was a successful and enjoyable box social given in Brown Gymnasium.

At the various baseball games the Philos showed their spirit. They were at the games to cheer their team on to victory. In the series the Philo team took second place.

Much credit must be given the president and other officers, for the effort they put forth to make the society forge ahead, and to them is due the flourishing condition in which the society was found by the members, returning in the fall.

R. HANKINS was elected president for the Fall Quarter and started the season off with an extremely enteresting program which was the culmination of much hard work done during the summer term. This program consisted of the unveiling and presenting of several portraits of old Philo's whose likenesses adorned the old Philo Hall. Our hall has been an exceptionally beautiful and attractive home for the Philos of Ohio Northern, but it was made even more so by the portraits of Dr. Lehr, Dr. Smith, Dr. A. S. Watkins, Dr. John Davison, Mr. George Rutledge, Mr. George F. Getty and Prof. J. Park. The Society was favored with the presence of Miss Pearl Stahl of Fostoria, Attorneys and J. L. Hampton of Columbus and L. E. Ludwig of Lima, who assisted in the unveiling of the portraits.

Mr. Hankins was elected General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and was obliged to resign from the presidency of the society to devote himself to his new duties. Mr. Pigossi succeeded Mr. Hankins as president and proved his ability as an executive for the remainder of the Fall Term. The term throughout was a successful one for Philoism.

THE Winter Term must be classed as a successful one. The slogan of the term was "Boost don't knock." This spirit held throughout the term. About fifty new members were admitted to the society. Special programs were held throughout the term. The Pharmic-Philo program was without a doubt the featuring one of the term.

Our inter-society debaters met with great success. Mr. Walley and Mr. Slager won from their Franklin opponents, while Mr. Pigossi and Mr. Sultzback were defeated after a brilliant fight with the strong Adelphian team.

The Executive Committee were successful in having the constitution, which had recently been revised, bound into a neat book form. The Philo girls are deserving of a great deal of credit for their work during the term. They have organized the Philo Girls' Booster Club. It is hoped that the boosting spirit of this term will always remain.

The Spring quarter started out with the true Philo spirit and vim. At the time of the first meeting the Annual was going to press, so———

The Philos were represented in the Washington Birthday Oratorical Program by Mark Shank. His subject was "National Holidays," which in itself was fine, his presentation of the subject to his audience was well received.

Philo Prophecy

MANY words have been spoken in the past years of our deserving members who stand at the round of the ladder in worldly activities. Ralph D. Cole; George F. Cetty; Judge R. M. Wanamaker; Dr. John Davison; Pearl A. Stahl; S. D. Fess and Ralph Parlette are Philos of whom we are justly proud. Special mention at this particular place should be made of our honorary members; Hon. Frank Dixon and Richard P. Hobson.

Our mind has turned back to review the pleasant memories of the past. We can see what the present is doing for us, and we not help but look into the mystic future and see what the world has in store for all Philos. After careful consideration we think the following Isers and Will Be's to be correct.

FOR WE ARE JOLLY ADELPHIANS

Come my good Adelphians, we'll sing another song,
Sing a song of O. N. U., 'twill start the world along,
Sing it as we used to sing it, fifty thousand strong,
For we are jolly Adelphians.

CHORUS:

Hurrah! hurrah! we bring the jubilee
Hurrah ! hurrah ! the grand society,
Let the chorus echo from the mountains to the sea,
For we are jolly Adelphians.

Of all the students in this school, we always get our share,
Men of great intelligence and ladies bright and fair,
Folks who for Adelphia would ever fight and dare,
For we are jolly Adelphians.

We are all Adelphians, we glory in the name,
For 'tis borne by thousands who have honor, power, and fame;
Won't you join our forces? You'll be sure to get the same;
For we are jolly Adelphians.

Round the world we're scattered, over mountain, hill and plain,
'Twixt the peaks of Oregon and mountain tops of Maine;
From the plains of China to the native state of Blaine;
For we are jolly Aldephians.

RECENT

Still achieving, still pursuing, the Adelphian Literary Society has maintained its peerless position in Ohio Northern University, during the past year. With members active; with enthusiasm unbounded and inexhaustible, the society has kept pace and advanced with all the other organizations of the school and has performed no small part in the bringing about of the "new birth" in literarydom at Ohio Northern. Original and efficient work has been the guiding star that has won success for the society on the home platform as well as abroad. A literary society must be judged by the quantity and the quality of work done; and judged by this standard in literary, musical, political, athletic, forensic, oratorical, scientific, business, medical, military, journalistic, executive, and social activities as truthfully portrayed in our "Who's Who" columns, the Adelphian Society has no superiors and few equals. All departments have steadily advanced with unwavering lines with "efficiency" as the ruling passion. With "Bigger ! Brighter! Better!" as our motto we join with the others of the trinity, "Fradelphilo," in a pledge to reach the stars through all difficulties. "Ad astra per Aspera." The Literary Societies shall continue to be the biggest and best things at Northern, —in student activities.

ROLLO WALTER BROWN, Litt. B., A. M.

Educator, Author, Educational Investigator

WHILE other alumni of Ohio Northern University and the Adelphian Literary Society are achieving success and winning national fame in other fields of science, surgery, chemistry, music, politics, statesmanship, etc., Professor Rollo Walter Brown, Professor of English in Wabash College is winning fame as author of text books on English that are receiving unusual recognition in colleges and universities all over the land.

Professor Brown, in preparation of his work, "The Art of Writing English," has wrought, perhaps better than he anticipated, for the merit of the book is being recognized all over the United States and the list of colleges and universities adopting it monthly, is rapidly growing larger.

Among the institutions that have adopted this text are:—University of Kansas, University of Cincinnati, Heidelberg University, University of West Virginia, Ohio Wesleyan University, Toledo University, De Pauw University, Central Wesleyan University, Beloit College, Hope College, Iowa State Teachers' College, George Peabody College for Teachers, Wabash College, Butler College, Nebraska Wesleyan College and others.

The extraordinary characteristic of the book is that, it is readable for persons who are not technically interested in English composition and rhetoric. One magazine writer remarked that he thought it "a pity that so much good, interesting writing had been buried in a college text-book."

Professor Brown is the author of another book, "How the French Boy Learns to Write," a study in the teaching of the mother tongue, that deals with educational problems, the result of a year of study and investigation in France. He is also contributing editor to a number of educational periodicals.

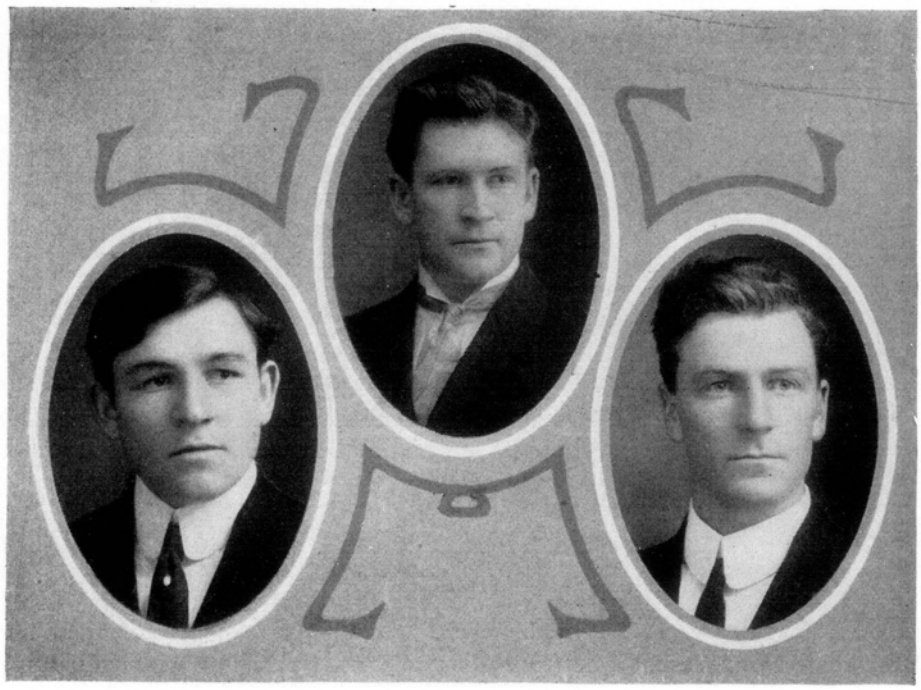

Professor Brown is an alumnus of Ohio Northern University, Classes of 1903 and 1904, graduating with the degrees, Litt. B. and A. M.

He is also a graduate of Harvard, 1905, with the degree, A. M.

He, "one of the Brown boys," is distinctly remembered by many Adelphians and others of the school for meritorious work done in the Adelphian Literary Society during his college days. He held every office and performed every part of the programs, even to the singing of a solo.

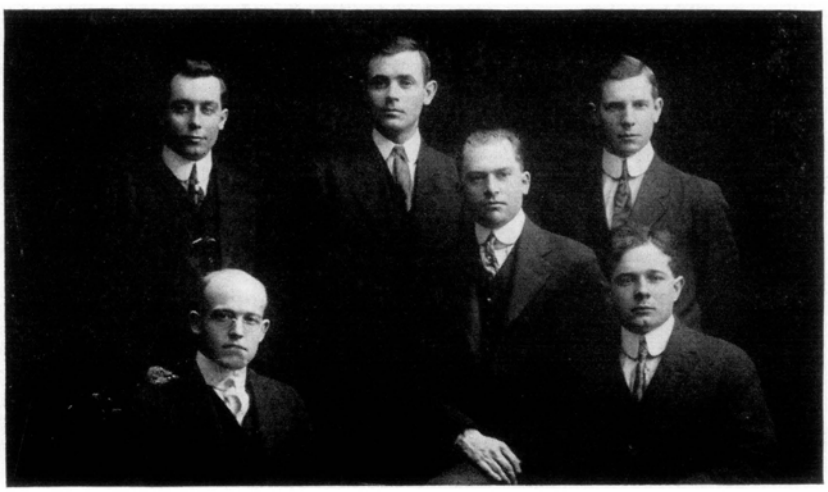

He is a member of The Modern Language Association of America; The American Dialect Society; The International Phonetical Association; and other societies for the promotion of learning. Thus, we add one more star to the firmaments of Ohio Northern University and the Adelphian Literary Society,—in 1916.

S. A. Hoskins was born in 1866in Sidney, Ohio. After graduating from the Ohio Northern Law College he became prosecuting attorney of Auglaize County. He served in this position for six years and in 1912 was elected delegate to the Constitutional Convention. In 1913 Mr. Hoskins was appointed president of the Civil Service Commission by Governor Cox. At the present time he is the senior member of two law firms—Hoskins and Secrist, of Columbus; Hoskins, Connaughton and Stout, of Wapakoneta, Ohio.

His life has been one of industry, and by hard labor and ability he has worked himself up in the world until now he is among the leading lawyers in the Buckeye State. "Northern" can be proud of such men, for these are the ones who have given the institution a standing in the world.

OTTO L. HANKINSON

Donor of Oratorical Prize

Lawyer, orator, politician, and Senior member of the law firm of Hankinson, Axline, and Deeds. Mr. Hankinson is a young man of twenty-nine years, and his success in the legal and political world reads like a romance. Graduating from the law department of O. N. U. in 1910 the young disciple of Blackstone hung out his shingle in Toledo with no capital for a start, save energy, nerve, confidence and a will to rise and conquer. He made good at once, growing from one small office in 1910 to seven large ones in 1916, is self evident that Mr. Hankinson delivers blows that count. Mr. Hankinson is chief-counsel for the Lucas County Druggists Association. He was one of the three lawyers selected by the State to prepare the arguments in defense of the McDermott bill. He successfully managed the Gubernatorial campaign in Northwestern Ohio in 1914. He is a lieutenant in the Ohio Naval Reserves and District Chancellor of the Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity.

Franklin Basket Ball Team

Buck, Barnett-Coach, Dormand-Mgr. Tabor
Sands, Johnson, Eggers
McElroy, McMasters

The Franklin basket ball team although not winning the championship took second place in the series. The winning of one game from the Adelphians and one the Philomatheans was due to the efficient coaching and management of coach Barnett and manager Dormand and the good hard work of each of the players.

Franklin Live Wires

Miss Rowe, A very nice Franklin and a bear (Bair) for work.

Miss Feasel, Oh Pshaw (Shaw) she is a suffragist, but an enthusiastic worker. An excellent organizer, and a good adviser, worthy of the best—even Duckworth.

James Collier, The Abraham Lincoln of Lawrence County. The inimitable "Jim" jolly, good nature, and full of fun. The chief pie dispenser of the "Franks."

C. E. Fackler, A lawyer, the chief legal light of Northern. As big in heart and mind as in body.

Paul C. Russell, Lawyer, pianist, orator and debater. Of him Franklinism is and expects to be proud in the future.

Elmer L. Godwin, Incomparable in black of face impersonation and foolishosity.

Ernest C. Singer, An orator and debater, always ready to uphold his part.

J. R. Fackler, His life was gentle and the elements were so mixed in him that nature might stand up and say to all the world, "Here is a man."

Yes Yim is very quiet, but he is a Franklin and a good one too.

Charles R. Barefoot, Northern's globe trotter, poet, orator, and by the way he knows something of hospital work.

Howard L. Malloy, A cool headed athletic, good student, but has a tendency to be a heavy buyer (Buyers).

F. I. Rowe, Big mentally, morally, and physically. An orator, organizer and fusser.

Mr. Altoonian, A great cartoonist and a noted snipe hunter.

Barton Snyder, Treasurer, pious, nobby, and neat.

Mr. Ramsey, Marshall, the big smilling man on the job.

Curtis Shetler, Hello old man, congratulations on general principles. A mighty good fellow, in debate unexcelled, as an orator a power and a friend to all.

Well Barger is very reserved, but he has the oratory, is a poet and an essayist of the finest type. He has a pleasing disposition but even he, falls in lover

Miss Evans, The Franklin Girls Club organizer, an energetic worker, has a congenial disposition and is a true Franklin.

Miss Antin, Our Suffragist League president and pianist.

Miss Longenecker, A might good debater.

Miss Montgomery, Loyal Franklin of the past, present and future.

Tom. Crow, A great musician, but with the ladies—nothing doing! He stays a mile away from any woman.

Rodgers, A college education shows a man how little other people know.

Leo Mills, Believes in combining law with music. Some of his friends caught him trying to play, "The Rule in Shelley's Case."

Donald Poiritte, A man should be practical, this theoretical stuff does not get very far.

Northern's Debating Team

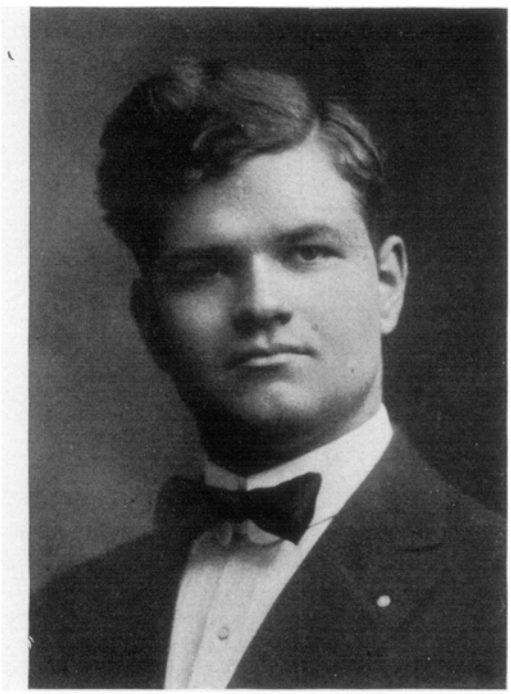

A. W. Moreland, E. D. Bair, R. M. Dibble, I. S. Campbell

Northern vs. Hiram

The debating season of O. N. U. opened at home. The question was "Resolved, That State and Local Revenues should be derived from a single tax on the economic rent of land." The question was affirmed by E. C. Baker, W. C. Miller, E. L. Morel, captain, and L. W. Harper, alternate. Northern's negative team was composed of A. W. Moreland, E. D. Bair, I. S. Campbell, captain, and R. M. Dibble, alternate. The judges, Prof. C. E. Snavely of Otterbein; Supt. John L. Estrich of Forest; and Judge W. F. Duncan of Findlay, decided in favor of Northern.

This was the first annual debate with Hiram. It was a splendid victory and a fine start of the season. The event was witnessed by the largest crowd that ever turned out to a Northern debate.

Ohio Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Association

HOMER A. RAMEY

That the Ohio Northern University is making rapid strides to the front in oratory was evidenced by the fact that a student from this University, Homer A. Ramey, served as President of the Ohio Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Association for the year of 1916.

The contest was this year held at Baldwin-Wallace College and the schools represented were, Wittenburg, Muskingum, Heidelberg, Cedarville, Wooster, and Ohio Northern besides the Baldwin-Wallace College. In 1917 the contest will be held at Northern.

Mr. Ramey's ability as an orator is well known at Ohio Northern as well as the surrounding towns. During the past campaign he "stumped" for a just cause and won for himself many warm friends. He is a worthy representative of Northern. Besides winning high honors here in oratory Mr. Ramey has won several medals through his orations, notably amongst these a diamond medal given in competition by the W. C. T. U. Ramey is doubtlessly one of the best orators Northern has ever had, and for a man of his ability to represent the college will tend to raise the standard of Northern in the field of oratory.

O. N. U. Branch of A. I. E. E.

THE Ohio Northern Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers was established Feb. 9th, 1912, and has kept fourth place among the colleges of the United States; being succeeded by the University of Cornell, the University of Michigan and University of Kansas.

We are constantly growing in membership. This year we took in twenty-seven new members, and, under the very able leadership of Prof. K. B. McEachron, it is expected that the percentage of increase from year to year shall constantly grow, until we are second to none among other colleges.

During the year, each member is given an opportunity of presenting several addresses on electrical subjects. It is hoped, that with the constantly increasing number of electrical students at O. N. U. the value of this training may be more fully appreciated and realized.

All students of the University pursuing a regular course in electrical studies are eligible to membership in the Institute.

Fifteen meetings have been held this year with a total attendance of four hundred and thirty. Thirty-two talks or addresses have been given, which have been of great value to those who attended as well as to those who presented the various subjects.

THE Y. W. C. A. has had an unusual year of activity occasioned in the first place by their new, commodious, pleasant quarters in the Lehr Memorial, well furnished, with the addition, last fall, of a new piano made possible by the proceeds of "Piano Fund Tag Day". This room is used for devotional meetings and a study room, where the girls assembling together during school hours have learned to know each other as would have been possible in no other way.

The Mission and Bible Study classes have had great inspiration in their efficient leaders, Mrs. Wertheimer and Mrs. Whitworth, who have given their time and talent to make the work of telling influence. A committee from the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. has been chosen, at the suggestion of Mrs. Smith, to formulate plans, where by we as a student body may join in the movement with other colleges of the United States to adopt a sister college in the foreign field and send funds to help forward the work, as well as study the many phases of activity in the special school chosen.

The Week of Prayer, Nov. 14-21, was observed. During the week Paul Reichel, Student Volunteer Band Organizer of New York, was here and gave a very helpful series of talks. The Y. W. C. A. has at the present two Student Volunteers.

The devotional meetings have been conducted largely by the student girls who have taken such vital interest in the spiritual welfare of the society and as a result the helpfulness of their leadership can not be measured except, as all lasting results are, in the hearts and lives of those touched by their own.

The National Jubilee of the Y. W. C.A celebrating the founding of the Association in this country, fifty years ago, was fittingly observed at Northern. It began with a reception given in the Y. W. C. A. room to the wives of the faculty and former Y. W. C. A. members. At one of the meetings we were privileged to have with us Miss Kathryn Condon, Field Representative from Cincinnati. The celebration was appropriately closed on March 2, by the girls conducting the entire chapel services, the special feature of which was a most inspirational address by Mrs. Wertheimer and greetings from Mrs. Maglott who has been ill and out of school the most of the year. We have missed her greatly, for her influence among the girls can never be expressed and our earnest wish is that her health will be restored so that she may be with us again next fall.

The Ohio and West Virginia Field has an annual Board of eight members chosen from groups of colleges in the territory. It is the privilege this year for Northern to be the representative from the group in which are located Defiance, Findlay, Heidelburg, and Ohio Northern. Clara Bell attended the meeting of the Annual Members of Cincinnati in October, Margaret McDowell was present at the meeting held at Ohio State University in March at which, plans were discussed for Cabinet Instruction. Gladys White and Josephine Montgomery attended the meeting of the cabinet members of the Bible and Missionary Departments at Delaware College. In January all the cabinet members were guests of Defiance College and together with the cabinets of Findlay and Bluffton an interesting meeting was held where ideas were exchanged and plans formulated for the work next year. Next year Ohio Northern has the honor of being the entertaining school.

The social life of the Association began with the Y. M. and Y. W. "mixer" at the beginning of the fall quarter where old and new studens met and began their year's acquaintance. This yearly event means much, for it is another evidence early in the career of the student, of the truly democratic spirit of Northern. Each quarter receptions have been given to the new girls, so they soon find that a welcone awaits them among the girls of the school.

The cabinet wishes to thank the Advisory Board for the active part they have taken this year as their influence has been of value to the Association.

Dr. Ream, who is working along the line of Student Evangelism among the Methodist-Episcopal schools, has made a recent visit to the Ohio Northern University which meant much to the members, his pleas for cleaner, nobler life were felt by all. Also in his conferences, he gave great impetus for the work next year, by many profitable suggestions. We feel that great advancement has been made under the able president, Carrie Schrock, and her untiring cabinet. So we all hope to labor for the best interests of the association under the direction of the new officers, Margaret McDowell, president; Virgie Feasel, vice-president; Talmage Harshman, secretary and Clara Bell, treasurer.

THE Y. M. C. A. started the year off, in their new home. The Association certainly appreciates the fact that they were considered worthy of headquarters on the ground floor of the new Lehr Memorial. They have a fine room which is used as a reading room and rest room for men. Tables are provided for games of different kinds which attract men to the "Y" for their spare moments.

The Association has splendid quarters in the basement where they have a room fitted with showers, which are open each day for the men. Splendid new steel lockers have also been provided. With the reading room and office room to equip with furniture and the large expense incurred by putting in new showers heaters, and lockers the problem of the Y. M. C. A. has been a financial one.

Mr. Hankins, one of our own men, was selected by the Board of Directors as our General Secretary for this year, and with the cabinet has been doing good work.

The Y. M. C. A. was fortunate in having Mr. Rowe as President, who put into it his usual amount of energy and enthusiasm.

The devotional meetings under the leadership of Mr. Harshman have been above the average for Northern, and the Association is to be congratulated on electing Mr. Harshman as President for the coming year.

All the departments have been represented by good men and the work of the year has gone along smoothly.

The Y. M. C. A. has a big place in Ohio Northern and an enormous amount of work to do. May it measure up to every opportunity.

ORGANIZATION

IN May, 1915, a committee was appointed by the Society of Engineers to consider the advisability of publisihng a paper to represent the Department of Engineering. After a thoro discussion, this committee decided that a paper representing the entire school would be preferable and steps were taken accordingly. The matter was brought up before and received the solid support of both the Junior and Senior classes, after which it was taken to the President and to the Board of Trustees, who gave their approval of the project. The committee then chose the staff for the first year, who completed the plans during the summer and issued the first paper, September 21 1915. The credit must be given to the committee who worked hard and tried to make an impartial selection in staff members from each department. The members of this committee were S. D. Hazen, Chairman, E. F. Boyle, H. L. Frapwell, L. H. Gardner, C. A. Leighninger, L. H. Lewis, A. F. Plant and W. D. Robinson.

Reminiscence of the Staff

We sit at our homes and ponder,
O'er the scenes of long ago;
When we were back at Old Northern,
It has been thirty years or so.
T'was in the early winter,
When this book was first begun,
And all the members of the staff
Worked from the rise to the set of sun.
The question of taking the pictures
Was by no means very small;
But after many trials and tribulations,
We finally finished them all.
Then along came the question of finance—
Poor Old Neil—I can see him yet,
Begging for the student's subscriptions
Until his brow with sweat—was wet?
Then the question of making the dummy
Arranging the book for the press,
Here's where Jackson had his troubles
But we all did our level best.
But at last the book was finished!
And we gave it to the world,
As a record of the classes' history
That we had there unfurled.
T'was a record of many friendships
Formed during our college days,
That were dearer to our memories
Than lyrics or the sweetest lays.
And as we turn the leaves of fancy
To review our college life;
Of the good old times we used to have
Of our flunks, our struggles and strife.
Then we pick up the good Old Northern
And as we slowly view each page
We find those fond recollections,
Only mellow with our old age.
And that dear old "'16 Northern"
Stands as a monument to our class,
For each one of its pages
Recalls memories dearer than the last
And we close the book in sadness;
Look out across the halls,
For the dearest days of all our lives
This volume now recalls.

The College World

THE College World is a sphere separate and apart from the rest of the universe.

It is composed of individuals which fall naturally into two classes, professors and students, capable by a painful process of evolution of transmutation one into the other. It is impossible to say which of these groups is of the greater importance in the College World, because each is an essential fixture—as Daniel Webster puts it—"one and inseparable." Needless it is to state, both realize their own importance—

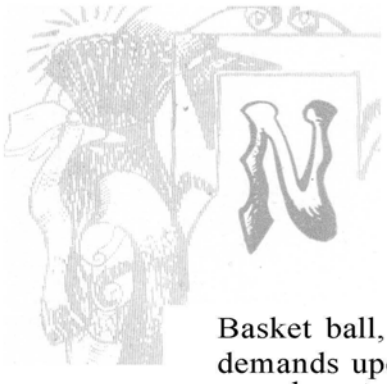

A professor is a truly wonderful being (Ohio Northern professors are no exception to the rule.) To what realms of knowledge and wisdom do they not endeavor to turn the footsteps of the students! What wonderful things they impress (or try to impress) upon the verdant developing student mind! And, most marvelous of all, sometimes they actually accomplish the feat.

Professors are not necessarily cut after the same pattern. Some are tall; some are short; some thin; some fat; some have an excess of hair; even so much as to cover the face and form a beautiful pointed beard; and some, sad to relate, have not even enough to cover their intellectual domes.

Professors are often considered by other people (dwellers in the darkness outside the College World) as normal human beings. Students know well however that they are subject to fits of inhuman cruelty. As a rule they delight—yea it is actually their greatest source of joy—to spring a long list of unanswerable questions upon their innocent trembling student victims. In the hardness of their hearts they really enjoy watching the struggles of entrapped perspiring befuddled students.

The students on the other hand do not possess these inhuman characteristics. From an outsider's viewpoint they are in fact not human beings at all. According to one definition a student body is a group of organisms given to sporadic spasms of hideous yelling during the hours when human beings are trying to sleep, but we, who are within the Student World, know that this is a biased opinion. The chief function of a student is to absorb imbibe inhale or seek the alleged knowledge which the professor is endeavoring to impart. The intermittent eruptions of super-abundant sounds is simply Nature's method of letting off surplus energy. To the participants the nocturnal caterwaulings are sweetest music.

As before stated the student's chief function is to assimilate the intellectual pellets with which the professors bombard him but this is only a part—in some cases only a minor part of his assimilations.

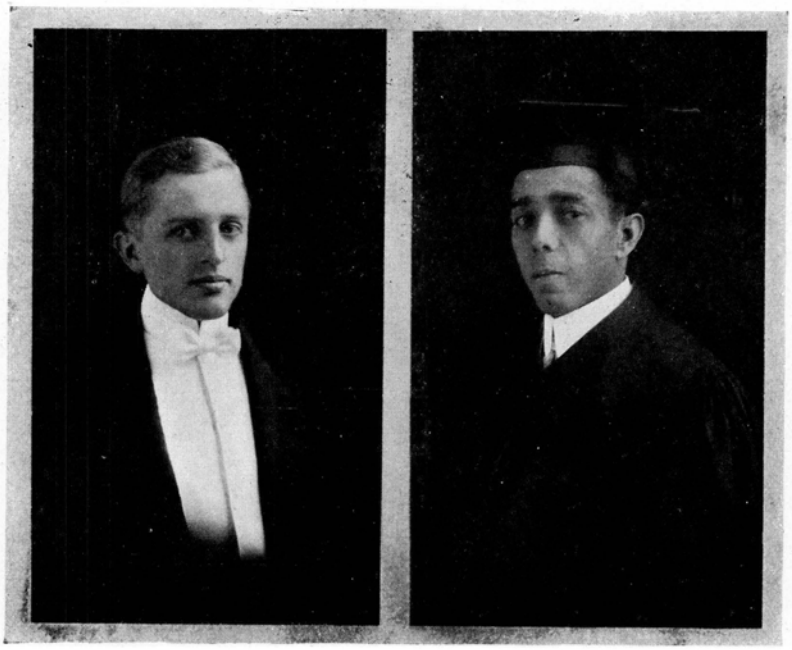

MCMXVI

Basket ball, football, baseball—these and many other things make demands upon the student's time, and get it too. Studies are postponed, put aside, well nigh forgotten until—ah, the fateful day!—The exam!!

But after all the long torture ends at last! Even the professors grow tired of the inquisition. What matters it after all that even a mind reader often would fail to find any connection between the examination questions and the answers which they bring forth? The exam is over anyhow—oh joy! The returns may be anything from "A" to "F"—the latter fateful symbol indicating that the victim has been cast into the outer darkness (where he doubtless belongs).

And so the College World rolls on, and in spite of the fearsome characteristics of the professors and the vagaries of the students, it is a delightful world in which to live after all.

ATHL
SEASON
OF 1915-16

A General Review

OHIO NORTHERN has suffered her "ups and downs" in the seasons past, in butreviewing the past year we are justly proud of the many things we have accomplished, also we find things which we wish had never happened. We hope to better the good things we have accomplished and wipe out the bad ones.

Taking every thing as a whole we are satisfied with the showing made during the past year. The record the baseball team made last spring goes to show that Northern made more than an even break in her baseball season. The important games of the season were with Kalamazoo and the two with Wittenburg. We were victorious in the latter two but lost to our Wolverene friends in the last inning. The coming season promises to be a good one and the baseball boys have a hard proposition. They are not only trying to give the University a winning team but to prove to the "powers to be" that varsity baseball is justified in its existence, by the real spirit and true sportsmanship it fosters.

A new branch has been added to our athletics, within the past few years, which is the introduction of tennis.

The team made a fine showing, and with the team of last season with us, this year tennis should take an important part in college athletics.

On the gridiron last fall, Northern had many misfortunes. The early part of the season the squad was composed of a large number of "cripples," resulting from difficult games at the first of the season. The presence of veteran material made it possible to win five of the nine games played. With Coach Raymond in charge, the old coaching system was used. Entering the Ohio Conference marks a great epoch for Ohio Northern and we have a very successful season to look forward to.

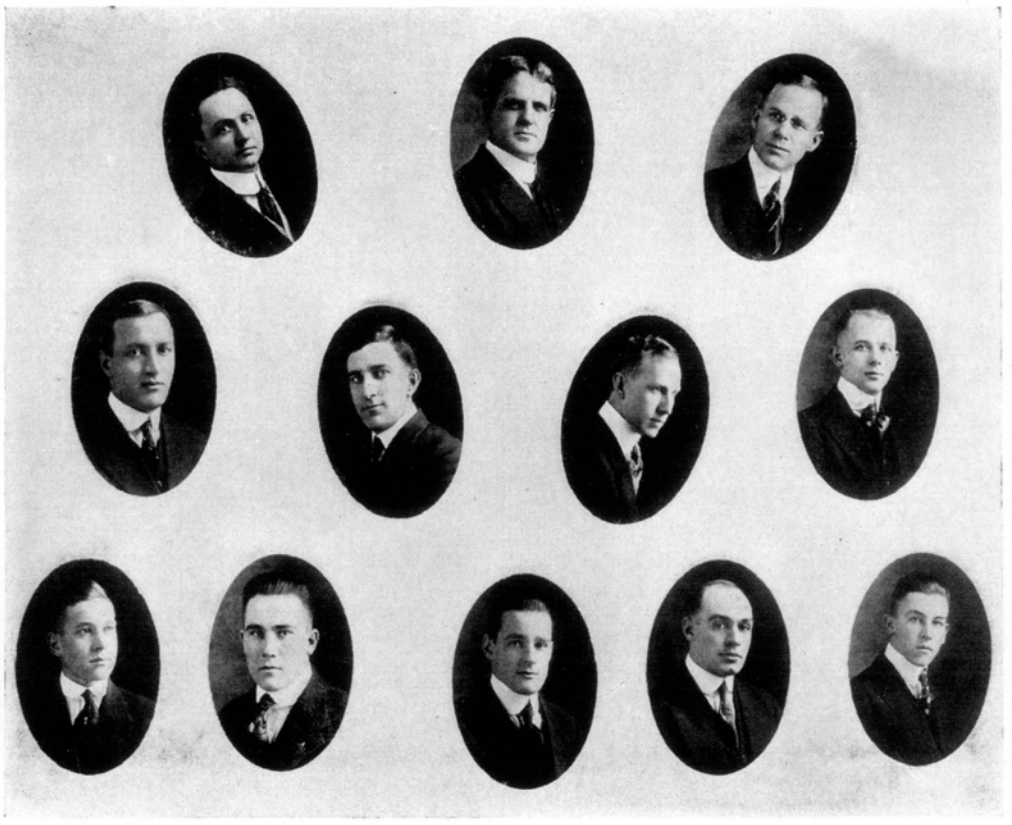

On the basket ball court our team was not one of success. With only one veteran back, left Northern with a green team to develop. The team as a whole did good passing, but their inability to cage the ball was the main cause for Northern being on the small end of the score. With the freshmen material and several veterans back again, it looks as tho the next year record should be one of reverse of our past season.

We feel safe in saying that Ohio Northern is entering into a period of better success in athletics. We have past thru the dark ages and there is no reason why we should not take a much higher plane in inter-collegiate activities. Nothing is more capable of binding us together as a student body, than to be either participants in or be spectators together at an athletic game. The welfare of our athletics is something that every student should guard with jealousy. The students have begun to recognize this, and consequently have ardently supported the teams, yet during the year just closing, with all the student support, why have we not been more successful? Wherein do we fail? Our failure is in not extending to the guardian of our athletic family our respect and confidence. Until we can do this it is useless to hope for success. So let us characterize this year as having been a year of preparation, for an athletic history-making epoch.

Review of Football Season 1915

WITH seven veterans back the prospects looked good at the early stage of the season. We were unfortunate in playing Miama and Ohio so early in the season, and the results were two defeats and a small hospital list. We had no trouble in defeating Antioch, 51-0. The team seemed to have a new start but met with a disappointment by being defeated by our old rival Heidelberg. With a crippled team Wesleyan took us into camp with ease. After the disastrous trip to Delaware, and a weeks rests, we took a brace and held Akron, 0-0, after we had scored 14 points that wouldn't be allowed. After this we defeated Indiana "Aggies," Otterbein and closed the season by defeating Wittenburg, 14-0, Thanksgiving Day.

The men worked hard individually, but did not train faithfully, both of which are gridiron failures. The Freshman team was a great help to the Varsity and with them playing next year with this year's veterans, a great team is looked for. There being only four veterans graduating in June—Captain Fyke, Cardner, Dawson and McAllister.

"Bugs" Raymond

AS in the past years, we are now discussing the work done by our retiring coach and the possibilities of a new one. Coach Raymond came to us from Ohio State, where he, for several years, upheld the Scarlet and Gray, at tackle, in All-State fashion. He brought with him a strong open style of football which was an important factor in many of our games. While Raymond stayed with us he created a spirit, not only in athletics, but in scholastics, that the University has long needed. We regret very much to part with Coach Raymond, who leaves to take up play ground work. However, we all join in wishing him the best of success in his new undertaking.

CAPTAIN FYKE, Fullback

'Tis sad but true that Captain Fyke has donned his moleskins the last time for the Orange and Black. This was his third and last year on the Varsity, tho the team was without his services during most of the season due to injuries. His regular position was at fullback, where he has played consistently for three years, being the only letter man from the old team of 1913 on this year's squad. He was a tower of strength in the backfield and much was expected of him this season in building up a strong trio, but with his loss early in the year, the backfield was considerably weakened and the season was well advanced before another combination could be developed. "Russ" was seriously injured in the first game of the season, with Miami, being rendered unconscious and under medical care for some time. He got back in the Antioch game but suffered a bad injury to his knee, which kept him out of the game the rest of the season.—(Editor Northern Review.)

CAPTAIN (Elect) BROOKS, Half and Fullback

Brooks was one of Coach Raymond's finds from the second string of last year's team. Getting in only a couple of Varsity games last year he had little chance to make a showing. This year "Les" was worked at halfback an the first of the season but was shifted to fullback after Captain Fyke was injured, where he played a hard game the remaining season. In recognition of his consistent work he was elected Captain for 1916, and we look forward to him as an ideal leader.

RICHARDS, Halfback

"Dick" was one of the veterans that returned last fall with a determination to do more for the team if possible. We find him at the close of the season playing a stellar game behind the line. He runs low and is a strong defensive player. With one more year in the University we can look for "Dick" to do great things.

BATCHELOR, Tackle

Batchelor is one of last year's veterans who played his first real football on the Alumni field. "Hicks" comes from the town from which he gets his name and was considered by many last fall for All-Ohio Tackle. His side of the line was dreaded by the best quarters because of his great defensive work. We can look for "Hicks" to repeat his work next year.

KELLY, Guard

Kelly returned this year with the determination of freeing himself of the second string of which last year he was a member. "Pat" received a dislocated shoulder in the early part of the season, but having the traits of an Irishman he stuck, and played a steady game on the line the rest of the season. Kelly, being a Junior, should produce a fine brand of football next year.

SMITH, End

This was Smith's first year on the team, but he turned out to be a star at his position. In the Otterbein game he proved an important factor by making the only touchdown for the Orange and Black. With one more year to play he will be a valuable man.

HILFINGER, Halfback

Hilfinger, being one of our last year men, had little trouble in getting an early start. "Hilly" is fast on his feet and carries the ball well. His booting was unexcelled from mid-season on and he proved to be a valuable man in every game. With another year's coaching he should be able to produce an excellent brand of football.

GARDNER, Center

His work this, his first and last, year on the Varsity was a great success and will be greatly missed. At center he played a star game by breaking up plays and passing true. In nearly every play his six foot frame could be seen smashing up interference. Loyde, being a Senior, will no longer be seen on Alumni Field.

EDMUNDS, Tackle

Edmunds came to us this year from Allegheny College where he played tackle the previous year. He played a good defensive game and tore holes in the opposing line at will. Being only a Junior we expect to hear more from him next year.

PIERCE, End

His first year on the Varsity was a decided success. Jimmy comes to us from the Keystone State, having played on Indiana State Normal. He is a hard, faithful worker, and few gains were ever made around his end. Besides being good at receiving passes he accepted every chance for tackels. With another year before him, Northern will in him have a valuable asset.

HONSINGER, Guard and Center

Honsinger was another of this year's stars from last year's second string team. "Hon" showed up as promising material at the beginning and continued to play a star game the rest of the season. At center, his passes were true and at guard he played a smashing game, breaking through and spoiling play after play. Next year the football enthusiasts should see him playing a great game.

DAWSON, End

In this aged looking pigskin chaser we have a sincere athlete. He started out last fall, playing Varsity caliber football. Joe played a steady game both at end and tackle. When used in the backfield his punting was of the first class. He was one of the most valuable men on the team and will be missed next year.

RIGGIN, Tackle

Last fall we found Riggin one of our heaviest line men. With his weight, and knowledge of the game, made him one of our best men. Both offensive and defensive he played a steady game and broke up many a play before it was scarcely formed. Next year we can see him playing a strong aggressive game.

FIELDS, Quarter

This was Tommy's first year on the Varsity at quarter and he earned a reputation for himself. His dodging and short, but necessary gains were the feature of his game. His drop-kicking has been the deciding element in many games. Another year will see him again at quarterback.

GEARLD, Halfback

In Gearld we find a hard earnest worker. He played a prominent part in Northern's success by being able to fill anyone's shoes on the team. He always filled the gap when called upon to meet emergenzies arising from another's injuries. With his steady work and his bulldog determination we will see him in line next year for a steady job.

MANAGEMENT

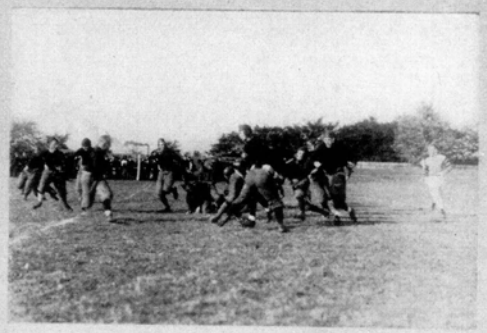

There can not be too much said in form of praise for our management. In our faculty manager we find Prof. Sleesman devoting all his time for the interest of the team. For his great success as a manager, in helping raise the standard of athletics in the University, we can not say too much.

Our student managers deserve much praise. Besides tending to his duties, Manager Evans tried for the Varsity, upon which he was injured. He being a Senior, we will miss him next year. His duties were carried out very creditly by his assistant Nolte, who appears to be the first find of a real athletic manager. With him in charge next year he should be a great help to the team.

HEIDELBERG

GAME

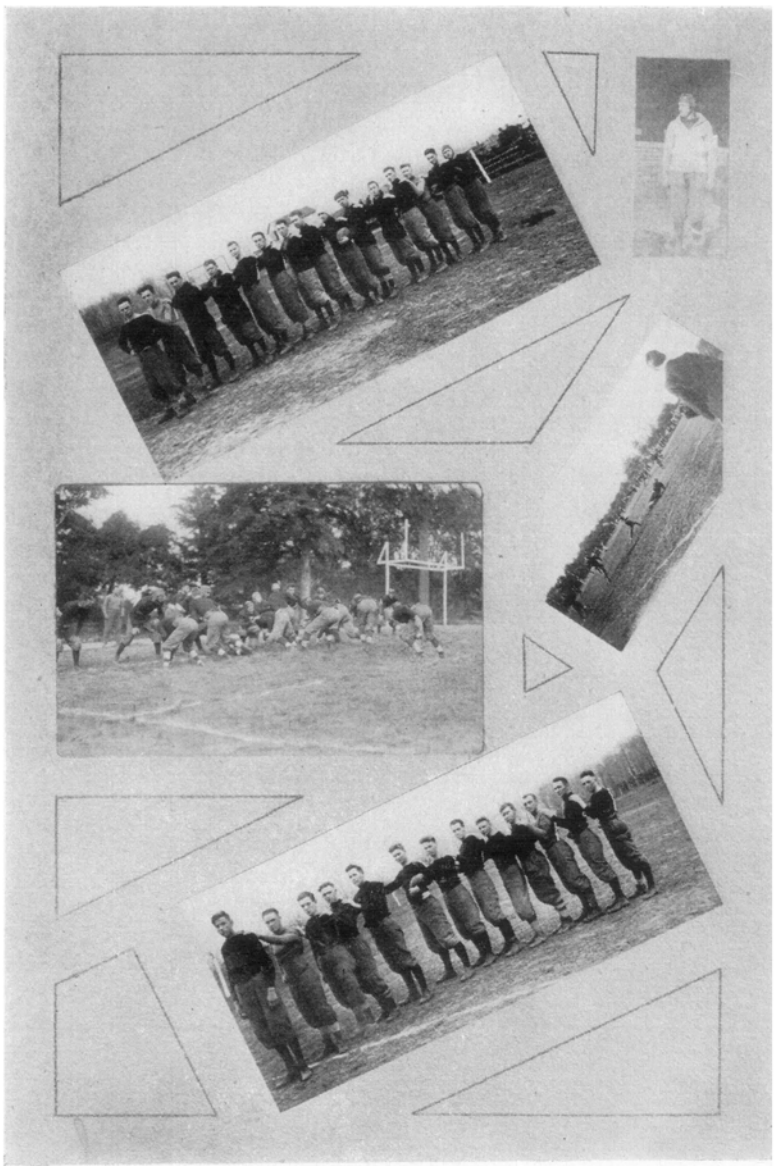

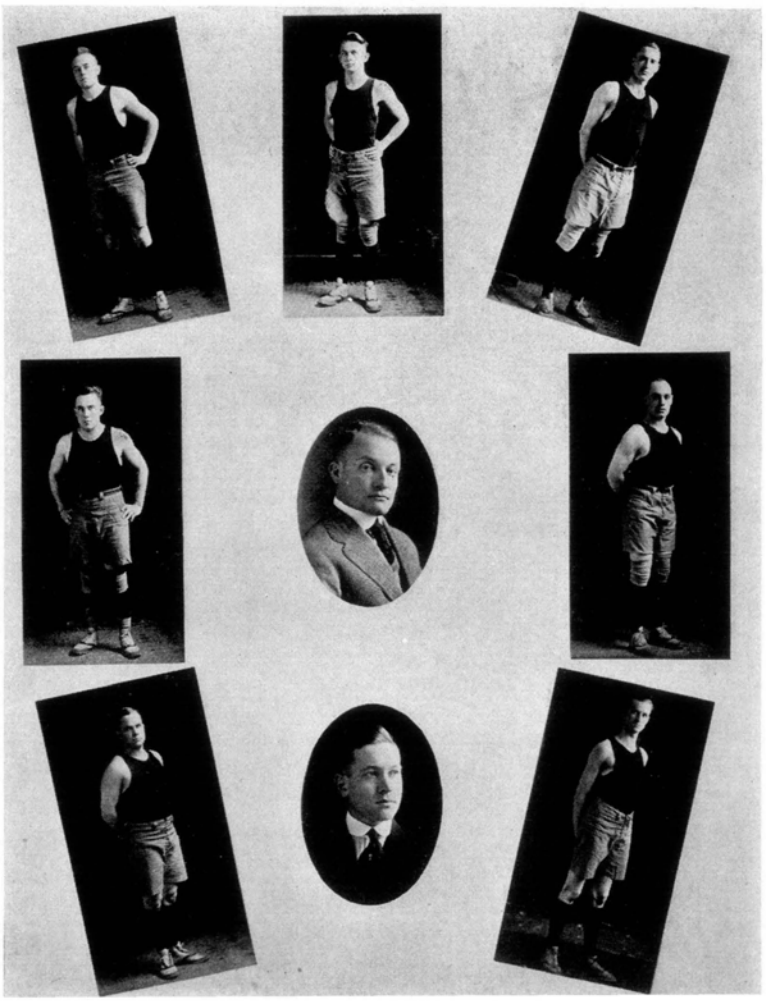

Clement, Sommers, Reed, McWhister, Buch, Kowalless
Abbot, Kennel, Louck, Sterling, Slager, Walden
Cramer, McNally, Honsicker, Porter, (Capt.). Johnson, Dunn, Prouty

Probably never before in the history of the University has there been a Freshman team that would equal the one that fought against their superior last fall. The coaching of Varsity Captain Fyke, who, after being injured, devoted his time with the first year men, was a decided success. A great deal of credit is due these men who came out faithfully each night, so that the Varsity might have real scrimmage.

The Harvard-Yale games, which were between split Freshman squads, aroused much interest. By midseason, to wromp through the Varsity, was not an uncommon thing for Captain Porter's men. In these men Captain Brooks will have some very promising Varsity material.

Basket Ball Team

Bailey, Parson, (Capt.). Barnett
Fyke, Bevan (Coach), Dawson
Pierce. Decker (Manager), Judson

BASKET BALL

OHIO Northern has just finished another season of basket ball which was not one of success. With only one regular back as a nucleus around which to build a team, a whole new team had to be developed.

The team was composed of fine material. The forwards were fast and rkers. The guards were aggressive and their running shots were a feature, when allowed to do so. The centers were good on the bat-off and at passing the ball. The inability of the team to pass the ball under the basket and long shooting was a serious fault.

Owing to the fact that this was the first season for the team to be together and with an entirely new coach, unfamiliar with the institution, and using a new coaching system, might be laid the failure of Northern this year. Concerniag the prospects for next year, it looks as though the team would be one of first class. With the promising material that will be out next year we can look for nothing but success on the basket ball court.

COACH BEAVEN

Roland Beaven comes to us from Muskingum where he turned out successful teams both in basket ball and football. He received his early training at Bethany, where he played in all three sports, wihle in college. Besides playing, he was assistant coach at Bethany. After leaving Bethany he was head coach at St. Marys. Although our basket ball season was not one of success this year, we can look for greater things from Coach Beaven in the future.

PARSON, Forward

When Captain Engh failed to return this year, Parson was chosen to lead the team. He was handicapped by being the lightest man on the team, but at forward he was always on the job. He was out a few games due to injuries but with another year to play we expect him to repeat his work. He was one of the fast men on the team and a good shot.

DAWSON, Forward

As last year, so this year, we find Dawson playing a star game thoughout the season. He was shifted to forward this year where he led his team mates in shooting in nearly every game. As a floor worker, a good basket shooter, and a fast all-around forward his equal has seldom been seen here.

JUDSON, Guard

Being one of the old verterans of long ago "Skipper" was back in the game again for his last time. He started the season at center but was shifted to guard, where he played a brilliant game the remainder of the season. His free throwing was not up to that of former years.

FYKE, Guard

We all knew "Russ" could play football without an equal. With his basket ball ability there was not much comparison, for at guard he played a clever game. He is an athlete that is admired, for his clean hard playing, by every student. In keeping his opponent scoreless and as a point getter "Russ" was unexcelled. (Editor Northern Reoiew.)

BAILEY, Center

This was Bailey's first year with Varsity Ball and it was a decided success. At center, where he played a star game, he was equal to any of his opponents. With his floor work and passing being of first class, besides his free throwing, made him one of Northern's most valuable assets.

PIERCE, Guard

To this guard belongs perhaps as much credit as to any one member of the team. This was his first year on the Varsity and for his tyle of clean basket ball he deserves much credit. Jummy is a speedy floor worker and a good shot. He is a hard worker, practicing faithfully and constisantly. With another year to play we can look for another season of good ball from him.

BROOKS, Guard

Another of the finds" of the year was Brooks. Although it was past midseason before "Les" got started, he was out to demonstrate to the fans of indoor sport that football captains can play basket ball as well as the low-brow" game. At guard he played a whirlwind game, keeping his opponents from scoring and being himself prominent in the tallying.

BARNETT, Center

Being an old recruit of last year Barnett was out this season with the asme old fight. Though not playing in enough games to be called a Varsity man he played a caliber of ball that could be called Varsity. He was in most of the hard and important games of the season.

Conference, Why?

ONCE askedoneof the leading athletic men, in one of our large universities, why a particular play in a certain athletic sport was made a certain way and his best reason was "All the leading teams adhere to that system." Then a likeanswer would apply when we are asked why we should join the Conference, because the leading teams are Conference teams. There is no recognition given a school in athletics where Conference rulings are not observed. When an All-State or an All-American team is picked, how many men from the non-conference schools are given places?

It is ture, as we have seen there must necessarily be a period of reconstruction, a passing from the old to the new and we shall suffer to some extent until we recover from our old habits, but during this we can have consolation in knowing we have quality, and there lies a bright future ahead.

Prior to our attempts to get in the "Big Six," our graduate manager was never sure of a schedule — especiallyone that was becoming a school like Northern — but now as we are on the verge of entering the Conference, we are sought and offered dates by all leading school sin Ohio and adjoining states.

Conference regulations do away with professionaslim and corruptness in college athletics and break up the old time "ringer" game that in days gone by was and yet is in some of our Ohio schools.

A student to qualify for these standards set, must be first a student and second an athlete, as he must have at least forty-five hours credit with a resident standing of three terms besides maintaining a high average in his daily grades.

It is plain to see the beneficial results of being in a Conference, especially the "Big Six of Ohio, as it offers not only standing but protection as well as opportunity that otherwise could not be had.

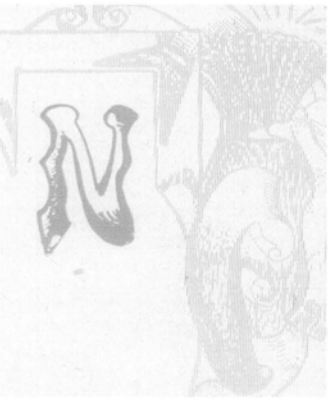

ROLAND BEVAN

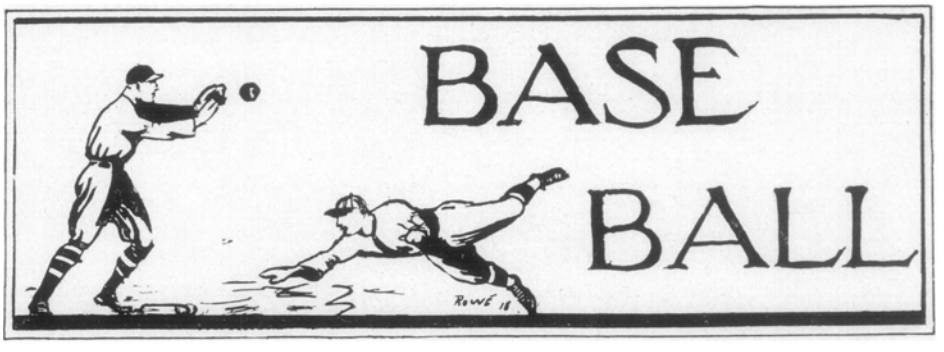

Baseball Team

Mgr. Brooks, Davis, Dawson, Thomas, Rudolph, Gilbert, Ass. Mgr.
Slater, Allen, Smith, Rhameck, Daley,
Starry, Stemm, Mills, Capt. Norris, Murphy.

IN the diamond our team was one of success and one to be proud of. With only a few "letter" men back it looked as though the team would not uphold the reputation of the sport of past years. When Coach Mills called for candidates a large sized squad reported, practically unacquainted with each other and of unknown individual ability. It seemed beyond possibilities for a team to be developed by giving every candidate a tryout for a position, and mould them into a machine-like team to win games from teams in the class of Ohio Northern.

With Coach Mills in charge, the team fast rounded into shape and was ready to open the season with Anticoh, April 17. Due to the consistant playing of the men we were able to more than an even break with our schedule.

There is a large squad working faithfully, and material appears to be of excellent caliber. With this squad of new material, besides nearly all of the old men working under Coach Bevan, it looks as though this season could spell success.

MILLS, Captain

Besides moulding a machine-like playing team, from a large squad of raw recruits, Captain Mills played a star game on the mound. He being one of the old men, was looked to for help when it was needed. Besides having control of his courves he led his team in batting.

DAWSON, First Base

This was Dawson's first year on the team, but his work was of such high quality that it earned him the Captaincy for this year. "Joe" is a fast base runner and a typical first sacher. He fields his position well and his batting is of the first division.

Getting the showing of a second string man, "Jim" came back last season strong and played a star game in the left garden the entire season. Besides pulling the one handed stabs, for which he is noted, he was a good slugger and produced a brand of ball of the big league type. Jim is with us this year and we expect him to play great ball.

MURPHY, Second Base

"Tim" was another of those men who were fighting for a birth on Northern's roster. This was his first year and he convered his position fast and in a creditable manner. With another season we can look for him to make a fine showing.

STARRY, Third Base

This was "Bill's" third and last year on the corner sack and he held it down in old time form. He got every thing in his territory in good shape. His batting was far better than other years.

STEMM, Pitcher

Stemm was playing his second year on the Varsity and this season was more of a success than last. He worked in more games than any other twirler. Dudley has quite an assortment of curves and plenty of speed.

RUDOLPH, Right Field

"Dick" was another of Coach Mills' finds and proved to be a valuable asset. He is fast, a good batter and played the right field in good form. With him back with us this year we can look for a better game from him.

NORRIS, Cenfer Field

"Shorty" covered the sun garden in grand sylte for a first year man. He is fast and a hard worker, besides being one of the neaviest hitters on the team.

SMITH, Catcher

Behind the bat Smith played his first real Varsity ball. Due to his pegging to second, very few sacks were pilfered on him. Not only a good backstop but he is a consistant batter.

ALLEN, Pitcher

On this man will lie most of the blunt for Northern's coming season. He is practically the only old twirler back in school this year. "Slim" played a brilliant game last year. He is a cool wroker and a good batter.
Sheet 231

DAVIS, Pitcher

Not getting in many of the games he was not allowed to show his real ability, which was dreaded by some of the best batters. Besides lots of speed he has curves that are unsolvable. He will be remembered by many in the Kalamazoo game.

DALEY, Shortstop

Probably one of Mills' greatest finds was Daley at short. He was one of the fastest men on the team and played a star game throughout the season. He is a good batter and a clever base runner. As George is with us this season we feel sure that that position will be safe.

SLATER, Outfield

A man that could step in and fill the shoes of any of the outfield positions was I S /(er.i/ıe is a fast base runner and covers his territory well. We can look for him to land a regular berth this spring.

THOMAS, Infield

This man deserves much credit for his ability to play a steady game at any of the infield positions. He takes every opportunity that presents itself and is a good assis. He hadles himself well and is a fair batter.

BROOKS, Manager

Besides being Student Manager, "Les" was playing on the Varsity also. He played a hard consistant game in the outfield. As manager he was a hard worker, always working to the interest of the team and he attributed much to the success of it.

Tennis

THE tennisseason could not be called one of success from a victory viewpoint, although the team made an even break with it's schedule. With the introduction of this new branch to out athletics and the interest thta was shown last spring, warrants us that tennis will be permanent and prominent inter-collegiate activity.

A great deal of credit is due Robinson, Decker, Barnett and McFadden, who devoted their time, with many others who showed great interest, in bring about this activity. All of last year's players are back in school and we have every reason to believe that tennis will come to the front this season.

Northern's Four Letter Man

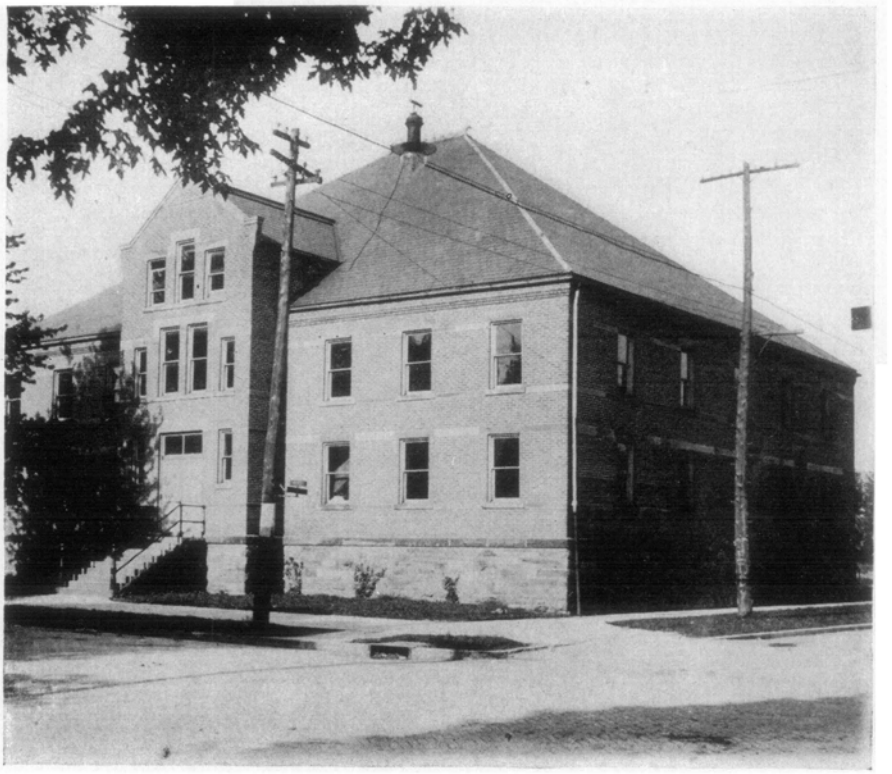

"JOE" DAWSON

William (Joe) Dawson, captain of this year's baseball team, closes his collegiate athletic career this spring, at the same time making a record equaled by few men who enter the athletic world. "Joe" has done about all it is possible for a man to do for his college, on the athletic field. He is known as a "four letter man at Northern.

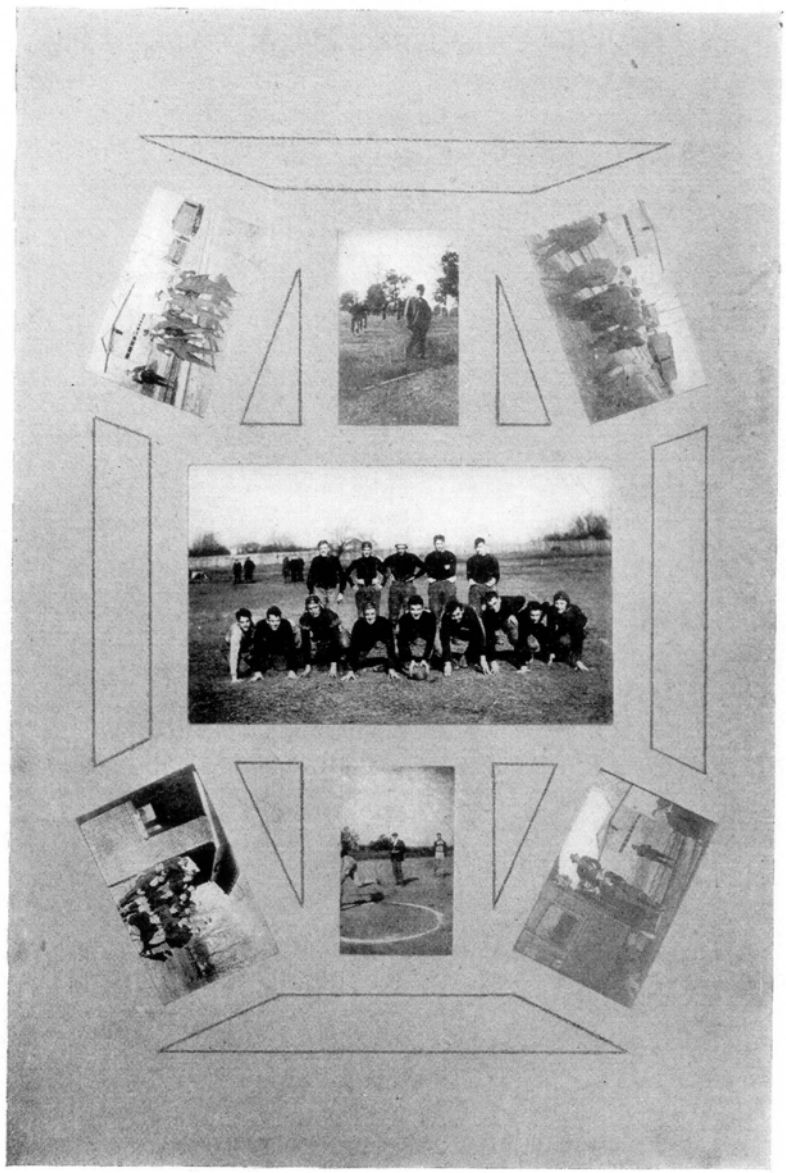

Dawson was not unknown when he came to the University. His athletic achievements while at the Bath (N. Y.) High School stamped him as one of the foremost inter-schoolastic athletes in New York State. At Northern he has made a record that will stand for some time. "Joe" holds letters in football, baseball, basket ball and track. Al atl times he gave his best to make a winning combination at college.

Besides being a good athlete he is, to those who know him, a whole hearted and sincere friend. When he leaves the University this spring, Northern will lose one of her best athletes and finest men.

Everyone who is prominent and who does things is cussed and misunderstood,—you must be cussed to be prominent.

We have devoted the fore-part of this book to saying nice things about you, that's because you paid for it. This part we devote to you free of charge.

If you don't think you are prominent in college kindly refrain from reading these few pages. All great men of this University will read these lines.

Speaking of the Faculty

Gentlemen — This will introduce you to Dean Mohler. Have you tried any of his exams? They are the delight of all students taking them — about nine-tenths of his class are not students.

Dean Smull — The original dispenser of gas engines — he supplies the gas. Just think of the "A" marks he gives — just think of them, that's all, just think of them.

Prof. Ringer — Head of the Vigilance Committee. Anybody wishing light occupations apply to him.

Prof. Taggart — He teaches students the principle of getting two men to strip for a fight and then running off with their clothes.

Prof. Wright — Occupies all his spare time, which is about fifteen hours daily counting out the profits of O. N. U.

Prexy — Claims he looks like Bryan from the nose up. We wonder who he looks like from the feet down.

Prof. Sleesman — Our living anarchist; contents himself with throwing bombs of learning at bumps of ivory. The grade sheets show him to be a bum shot.

Prof. Hughes — Charter member of the "Brayer's Club."

Prof. F. Maglott — Professor of Astronomy. The only man who never contracted "pneumoonia" from looking at the moon.

Prof. Deming — Specialist in Creek and Salome dances.

Prof. Allen — Purple eyed, pure hearted, peaceful, pussy footed, pessimist, peace at any price pacifist.

Prof. Schoonover — Dispenser of great C-A-U-B-S of Theology Believes that Ionah had "al-carte" service while riding in the whale.

Prof. Raabe — Shy, bashful, and timid.

THE NORTHERN

Everybody knows that there is a graft connected with the Northern. Some say, "If there is so much graft why doesn't someone clean things up?" Whereupon our frined H. D. B. retorts, "Anyone who is smart enough to detect the graft is smart enough to get in on it." Business of suspicious looks begin thrust at "Jim." If anybody starts a cleanup we print his picture in the book and give him a big writeup." If you want to start a cleanup you must be on the board—once you are on the board you will postpone the reformation till next year.

*For example see Faculty writeup.

THE NORTHERN REVIEW

It pains us to say anything harsh about the Northern Review. We do not feel qualified to criticise such papers as the Chicago Tribune, New York Times, and the Northern Review. The latter is quite old now, being about eight months old, seven of them in this year and one last. If the publication of the paper was as prompt as the manager's bills it would be some paper, boys.

OUR EXCHANGE

Editor of the Northern:

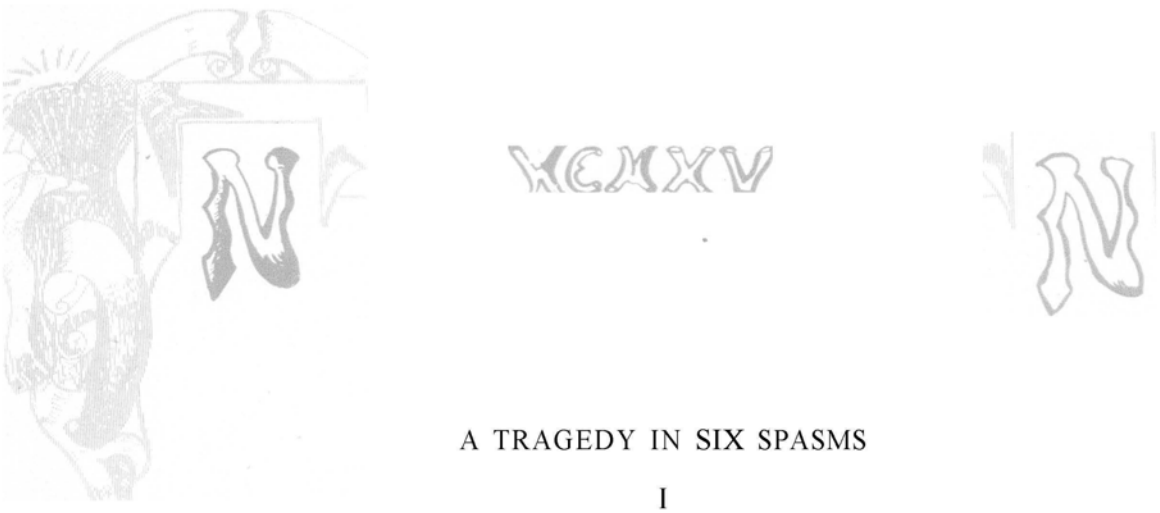

We are glad indeed to exchange year books with your college. After looking through the book we note that your men are not as good looking as they might be. We girls admire men with cute little mustaches something like Mr. Barger's. If we only could see his feet we are sure they are like Charlie Chaplin's. Would you mind telling us if he uses cosmetics on his eyebrows?

THE VASSAR COLLEGE GARGLE

Editor of the Northern:

Your year book at hand and contents noted. On looking over your book we find that there are several bald headed men at your college. Even you yourself seem rather bald. We trust that this is not acquired by hard study. We noticed in particular Mr. Dawson. The society editor of our book has become infatuated with Mr. Dawson. Would you mind telling her what brand of nail polish he uses.

The editors of the Northern are glad to answer any questions that may perplex our subscribers — explaining the fourth dimension is a mere pipe compared to editing this book.

We have secured the services of authorities on all interesting subjects, classical and otherwise. Fred Rowe, authority on the dance will answer all questions pertaining to that torture, also on all subjects of dressmaking. Thevenet will answer all questions pertaining to old coins or any other old junk. We have given the most important job of the lot, that of social adviser, to one whose ability along this line is well known — D. Batchelor. C. Marshall will answer all questions on military.

Take advantage of this because it is free and the only thing you'll get free from us.

A GLANCE INTO THE FUTURE

(Scene—A pearly gate of splendor situated at the extreme end of a beautiful avenue of greensward. Several angelic figures near by. In a long file the members of the class of 1916 approch the resplendent gateway to gain entrance to the city of Heaven.)

St. Peter (to an attendant)— Well, old fellow, here comes another gang of bums from the Ohio Northern University. Last year every '15 man went to hell. No one had the proper credentials to our city. Let's hope this class fares better.

The first man of 16' appears. The leader is hailed by an attendant:

"Who may you be?"

"I may be A. Lincoln, but I am Frank C. Fyke, captain of the football squad' athlete of wide fame, and editor on the Northern. I could tell lots more about myself but what you don't know won't hurt you. Do I get in?

Without further words six burly angels seize Fyke and hustle him into an elevator, which rapidly descends to the depths of Hades.

"Next," called the attendant.

A youth steps forward introducing himself as E. Francis Boyle.

"I take great interest in the girl's basket ball team. I have directed every game. You can't keep me out; I've got a "comp."

"So he has," replied St. Peter. "We'll have to let him in. He knows the manager."

"I should have you know," the next candidate declared, "that I lead the singing at one of the churches in Ada. You need me in the Heavenly Choir. Besides, I have a part interest at said church."

"Admit him," was the quick reply. "He knows the ropes already."

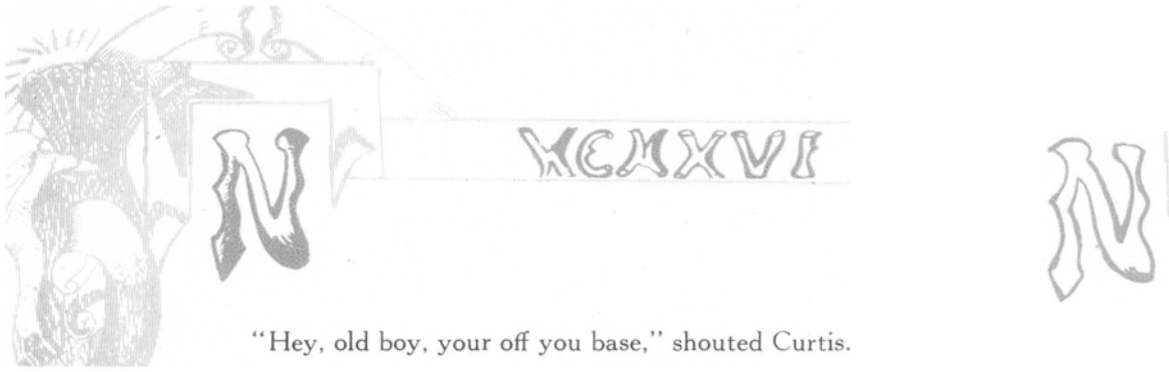

After a few minutes intermission the work of classification is continued. E. S. Barger approaches St. Peter minus his mustache.

"Ladies and gentlemen, for many months I have reported the events for the Northern Review and now I am ready for eternal rest. I have 'scooped' my competitors. I think I could do great services in the heavenly courts."

"Ah, ring off," cried St. Peter, pointing to the elevator. "You go below and 'scoop' coal. Report the big fire. There are no college reporters in heaven. Next."

"My name? 'Tis C. M. Shetler," was the soft answer to the great St. Peter's demand. "I can make people laugh like heaven. In the class room, in the homes and at the banquet board do the students roar at my wit."

St. Peter then flutters his wings, arising from the ground, and eyes Curtis from an airy perch in indecision.

"Hey, old boy, your off you base," shouted Curtis.

Whereupon the attendants roar in laughter, St. Peter saying:

"Verily you are jokesmith. You may enter into the pearly city."

Slapping a burly angel on his wing, Curtis disappears through the doorway.

"P. P. Brewer is my name," croaked the next form. "I will show you this key, this N. T. K. key."

"Ah, ha!" cried St. Peter. "Do you remember such a trifle last year when '15 sought admittance?"

"Hard have I studied that I might wear this beautiful emblem on my breast. Why, I paid ten dollars for this little key!"

"Give him back his ten dollars and send him to hell. An N. T. K. key will not open the door of heaven. Next."

"St. Peter, I must get in," pleaded a deep voice. "They all expect men. Barefoot is my cognomen. I haven't got a pass; 'Im not a "Deake" nor am I a jokesmith. I've got a reputation though. Let me in on my rep."

"He certainly can't hurt anyone. Admit him on seven day's trial," was Pete's answer.

Scarcely had these words died away when a terrible roar like the sound of many waters causes the angels toflutter their wings in alarm. The bellowing voice of H. Judson shakes the pearly gate.

"Loud and long have I roared. My wonderful voice has made plain the events of a track meet; my voice reformed the college; my voice has administered religious ideas."

"Buchwa. T'ell with your voice. Descend and bellow like the bull, so that even we may hear you. Your voice will be the echo from deepest hell. Next."

An attendant then pushes his way to thefront accompanied by a tall statelyfellow.

"This fellow's name is Godwin. He refuses to tell anything about himself."

"Then for the deveil's sake let him in. We need fellows who are not all ether," decreed the great St. Peter.

"Remaining members of the class of 1916," spoke St. Peter in solemn tones, "Five of your class have entered the pearly city. Not a member of '15 qualified. Prior to that we had never heard of Ohio Northern. I wish to congratualte you on the excellent showing. We have no more room for '16 men; the rest of you must go to hell."

SIDELICHTS

C. Barefoot — Future President of the United States or at least his campaign manager.

E. Boyle — Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. and manager of the girl's basket ball team.

F. I. Rowe — Champion long distant talker, authority on the dance.

H. Bailey — They say he is going to raise cattle. Is he experimenting on the Senior class?

Charlie Neil — Race horse owner, fight promoter, and surgeon of world wide reputation. How do we know? Ask us!

W. Jackson — The goat of al! Neil's jokes. A famed apple hunter.

Thevenet — A wonderful specimen of a human magnet — for gold and silver.

Joe Dawson — The only man in Ada who knows where the Irish navy is.

J. Hill — Politician, statesman, and enigneer. His duty is to tell the other fellow how it is done.

To repeat an old, old one, Rothermund may not always get his just deserts, but he always gets his dues. Let that go collect.

Famous Inseparables — "Jim" and Fred, Ray and Rall, Ducky and Louie, Barger and his mustache, Thevy and his bank account, Barney and his dog.

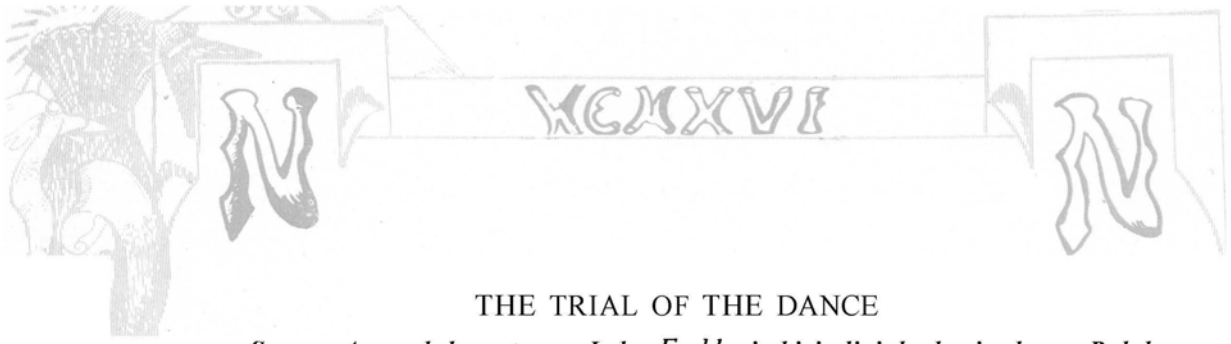

C. M. Shetler — The only living undergraduate who was able to put the "con" in contracts.

M. Wall — Champion hare luck guy, famous fire eater and everything that goes with it.

H. Chandler — Eminent authority on Short Horned Bull.

L. V. Cromer — Specialist on baby ribbon of all shades.

O. Hankins — Terror to those who break rule "D" on the matriculation card.

THE TRIAL OF THE DANCE

Scene—A crowded courtroom, Judge Fackler in his judicial robes in charge, Ralph G. Harshman next to Mr. Rowe, a famed authority on the dance question on the witness stand. Jury consisting of such great men as C. Palumbo, "Pa" Parsons. Judge Fackler throws away his "Fatima", coughs a bitter laugh and raps for order.

Judge—How long have you studied this art Mr. Harshman?"

Ralph—Ever since the memorable night of the big "hop."

His Honor—What, in your opinion, is the evil of these debaucheries?

Harshman—Your honor, should a young student (Pat Kelly, Grove, Honsinger, and Waldron excluded by this statement) indulge in such pastimes I can hardly see how he or she could make more than 95 in an exam."

Fackler—Do you think these trippers of the "light fantastic" would indulge in intoxicating liquors?"

Ralph H.—Not if I saw it first.

His Nibs.—Is dancing unhealthful?"

R. H.—Very much so, any one indulging in said vice is liable to perspire to such an extent that the sweat running from his brow would drown his eyebrow."

Judge—Where, to your knowledge, did the One Step originate?''

R. G. H.—Well, your Nibs, (loud snickers) the way Pat Kelly executed that dangerous contortion, I should say that it originated in Lima."

The Court—Do respectable people attend these dances?

R. George—Well, Sunday school teachers and (long silence) I saw the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. there (longer silence followed by coughs from O. W. H.).

Judge—What, in your opinion, was Mr. Hankins doing there?

Ralph—I guess the same thing I was, there for to watch the graceful dancers.

Clarence, very excitedly—Did the girls show much grace?

R. H.—Yes, and lots more, too.

Judge—I sentence the dance to be hung by the neck until dead.

NOW that the book is nearly completed we pause to consider. whether or not the position of editor-in-chief is worth while, After reviewing the many friendships formed in the construction of Northern's Annual and the pleasure of working with some of Northern's best undergraduates in the construction of the book we conclude that the office of "chief" isn't so bad after all.

Our relations with Mr. Rickard of the Canton Engraving and Electrotype Co. have been of benefit to us, while to Mr. Ward and Mr. Robinson of the Champlin Press we are deeply indebted for timely suggestions. We wish to acknowledge with appreciation the courtesy and uniform good work of the White Studio.

And so the records of '16 go down into history. May this book serve as a fitting record of the many deeds of this class.

We know there are many defects in the book which will have to be left for the public to discover but if there is any credit coming, give it to the members of the staff who have worked hard and long to make the book a success, and should you happen to have any kicks, the editor will cheerfully bear the brunt of them all.

The Editor.

Farewell College Days

Bid farewell to your lov'd Alma Mater,
Mother of all your hopes and fears;
You will miss her—you who love her—
Miss her through the coming years.

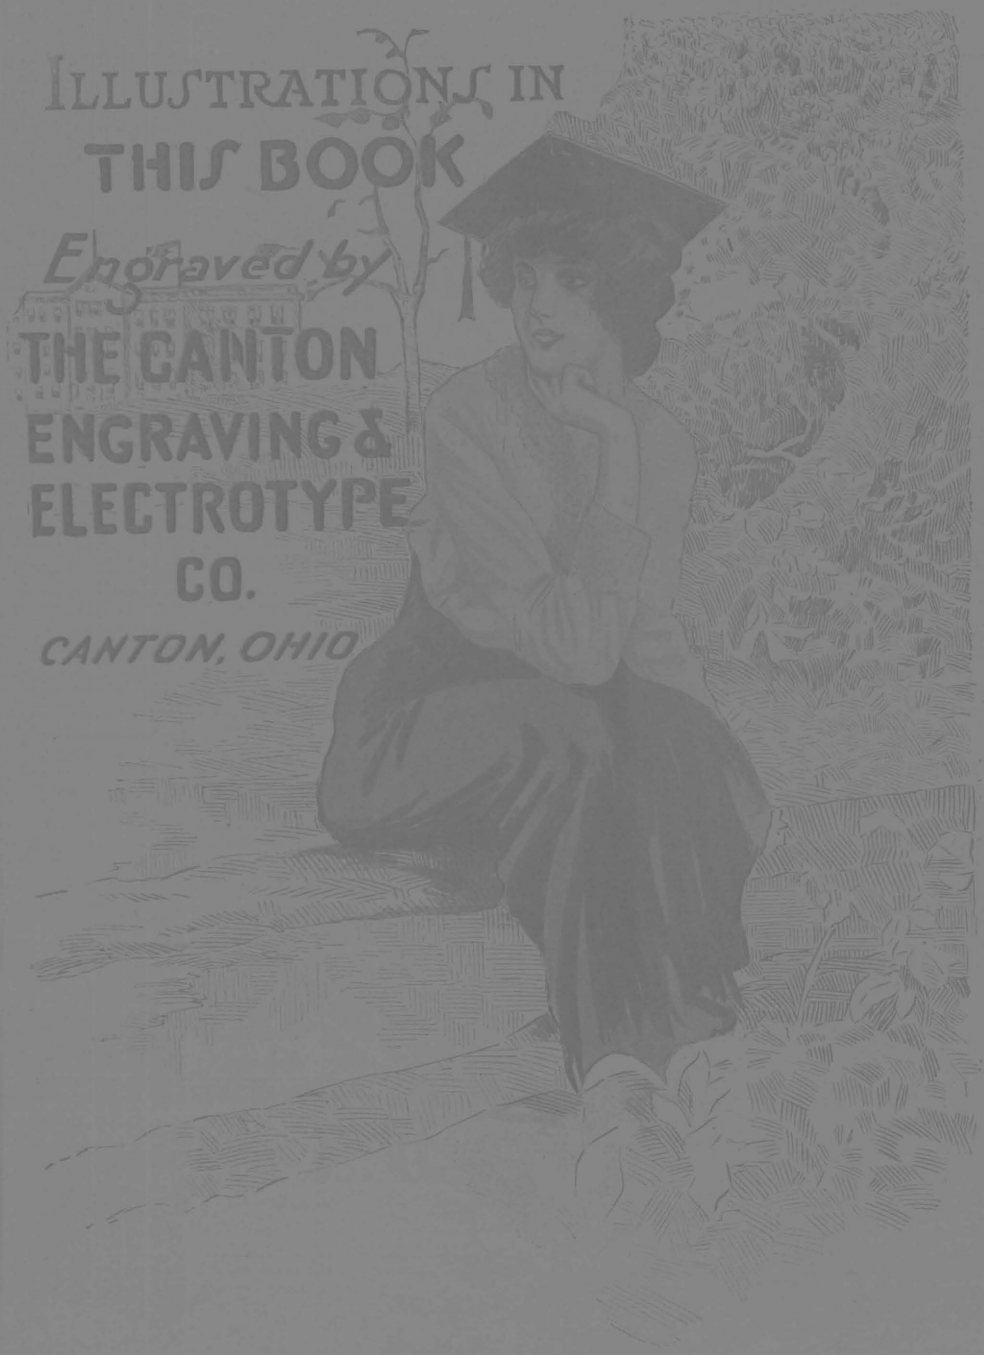

You will ever keep the memories,
Fondly cherished; one by one,
In review they'll cross your vision—
Memories of college days, now gone.

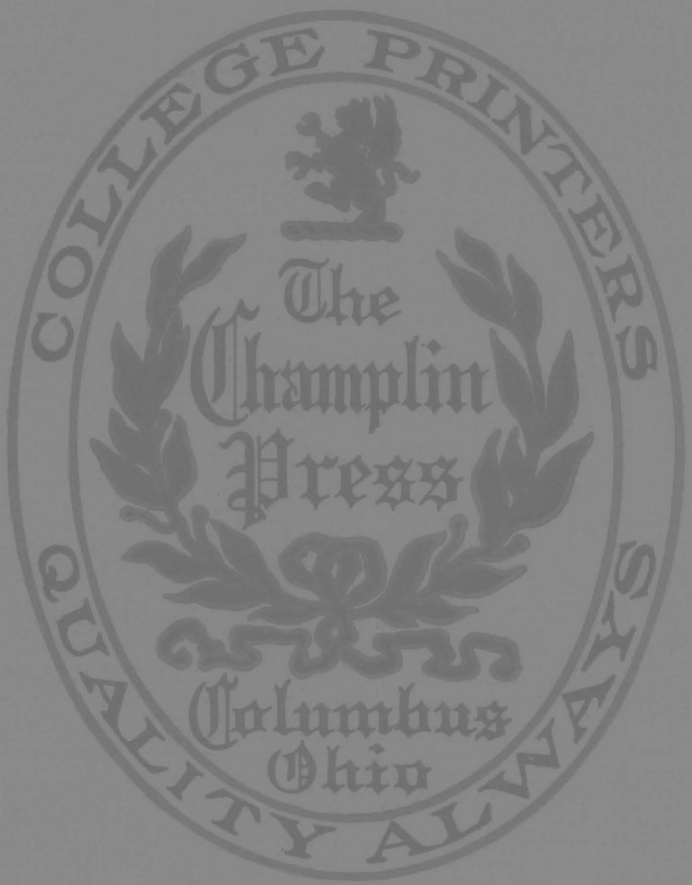

O, may you all, class of sixteen,
Strive ever bravely success to gain;
May you climb the steps that lead,
Upward to the Halls of Fame.

Bid farewell to friends and teachers,
To the chum you loved so well;
Farewell to the halls of learning,
Au revoir to old class yell.

Farewell to the dear old college days,
Days fraught with noblest aim,
Days rich with budding promise
Writ above each classmate's name.
